TWO CENTS.

BLOWN TO PIECES BY AN EXPLOSION

William Swindells' Pantry Was Full of Natural Gas This Morning.

HE OPENED A DOOR
TO LIGHT THE GAS JET

And an Explosion Occurred Blowing Him Several Feet.

REAR OF HOUSE WAS WRECKED

Doors Were Blown to Pieces and Swindells Had a Narrow Escape.

THE DAMAGE WILL BE HEAVY.

A natural gas explosion this morning nearly caused the death of William Swindells and his escape is almost miraculous. As it is he suffered several severe burns, but the damage to his residence will reach several hundred dollars.

Mr. Swindells resides on Pennsylvania avenue and uses Fort Pitt natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes. Last night between 8 and 8:30 o'clock the pressure went off and the gas in some parts of the house went out, and upstairs it could not be lighted at all, and when the family retired they were compelled to use lamp light. It was thought the jets in the lower part of the house had all been turned off, but it is the custom to leave a jet burning in the pantry.

This morning, as is his usual custom, Mr. Swindells arose about 20 minutes after 6 o'clock and went downstairs. He did not smell any gas and lit the kitchen stove and then lit a jet in the bath room. From there he went to the pantry and opened the door with a lighted match in his hand. Immediately there was an explosion and Mr. Swindells was blown several feet and his hair and clothes caught fire. He fought the fire out with his hands and by the time his wife arrived on the scene he had succeeded in extinguishing the flames. He is severely burned about the face and hands, and his arm, chest and head are bruised. Probably the only thing that saved Mr. Swindells from being burned to death is the fact that he wore a woolen sweater and it did not catch fire, but is simply scorched. The shirt sleeves that extended below the sweater were burned.

The damage to the house will amount to several hundred dollars. The rear portion of the house overlooking the river is badly wrecked. Where the first and second stories of the house join the partition is blown out fully 18 inches, while the veranda is blown loose and presents a dilapidated appearance. The plaster in the bath room is torn off in several places. The door leading to the pantry was blown into several pieces, and Mr. Swindells thinks some of the pieces hit him, which causes the soreness in his head, arm and chest. Another door, which leads to a short hallway from the kitchen to the pantry, was blown off, as was the door leading

When the explosion occurred Mrs. Swindells and the rest of the family were in bed and did not know what had happened. Mrs. Swindells supposed a bed in which her son sleeps downstairs had broken down and she went into his room, but he told her the noise came from downstairs. She went to the kitchen at once and found Mr. Swindells sitting on a chair. She asked him if he was hurt, and he replied that "thank God he was not killed." A physician was sent for and dressed the injured man's wounds and he is resting as easily today as could be expected.

The only explanation that can be given for the explosion is that the jet in the pantry was left burning when the family had retired. During the night it went out and later the pressure came on. The door to the pantry was tightly closed and all the escaping gas was kept in the one room or the volume of the explosion would not have been so heavy. John Swindells, a young son, was the last person in the pantry last night, and he stated that he did not touch the gas.

Mr. Swindells had not seen the havoc caused by the explosion and for that reason could not fix any estimate of the amount of his loss, and was not prepared to say whether he would enter a suit for damages against the company.

CHIEF OFFICERS HERE.

They Held a Conference With General Manager T. F. Anderson.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Baird, of Akron, president of the American Clay Manufacturing company; Thomas D. Brown, of New Brighton, secretary; R. M. Francey and W. B. Goucher, of Toronto, directors of the new company, were in the city the guests of T. F. Anderson, of the East End. Later in the day the gentlemen held a conference with Mr. Anderson in his office in the First National bank building. They returned to their homes last evening.

TRENTVALE STREET.

The Work of Finishing the Grading of the Street Will be Commenced Soon.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart will commence work finishing the grading of Trentvale street just as soon as possible and hopes to get started no later than April 1. It will take about two weeks to complete the work. How soon the road will be paved will be determined when it is ascertained how much money has been expended in grading the road. The council has $6,000 to expend on the road and it is not known how much can be collected by assessment.

Taylor's Quickness.

Ashtabula Sentinel.

Ohio men are great people, that is a good many of them are. But after we read how Robert W. Taylor, of Columbiana county, took the lead in the debate which laid out Roberts, made us so proud of Ohio, that we wanted to rub against a post and purr. His quickness in debate was shown during the discussion of the resolution on Roberts.

Coming Back.

A. G. Minehart has decided to move back to this city from Youngstown. He will arrive here about April 1 and expects to engage in business in this city.

THE SHORTAGE OF KILNHANDS

Brotherhood Committee Will Make a Report This Week and the Demand Will be Supplied.

SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS

The Plans For the Cannonsburg Pottery Will Be Completed Next Week.

F. I. SIMMERS HAS A NEW JOB.

The question of getting more kiln hands for the potteries has been left in the hands of a committee of the Brotherhood and they will make a report this week. The committee is endeavoring to formulate a plan whereby all the potteries will have enough men and the demand will be fully met. It is thought the plan of the committee will be satisfactory to all parties, but what arrangements they will make will not be given out until after they make a report to the Brotherhood.

pottery will be completed next week. It will be of a modern 6-kiln plant, with all the up-to-date improvements. Dishmakers' local, No. 29, will meet Thursday night and transact routine business. This local is only about 18 months old, but they now have about 48 members, including in that number all the dishmakers in the city except three.

Frank I. Simmers, who has been on the road for the National Glass company for some time, will resign his position April 1 to accept a position in the office of the East Liverpool pottery.

NO MORE.

Streets Won't Be Washed at Night By the Street Force, As It is Not Necessary.

There will be no more washing of the streets at night, and if they are flushed it will be done in the day time. President Peach, of council, says it is not necessary to have men work all night washing streets in a town the size of East Liverpool, and it is not right to ask them to do it for $1.50 per night. He don't think that is sufficient money for the amount of work the men do, and for that reason they will not be asked to work any more at night. He says it is all right for cities to have the streets washed at night, but in a city the size of this one the work can be done in the day time without seriously interfering with any one.

NOT THE MAN.

Four Officers Prepared to Make a Capture at the Grand Last Night.

Last night the police thought they were on the trail of George Heckathorne and went to the opera house prepared to capture their man. His girl was seen in the gallery and four officers went to the theater prepared to make sure of him. Knowing the character of Heckathorne they were armed to the teeth, and one of the officers pulled his revolver and handcuffs in the stairway to see that they were all right. The advance agent of the show was informed that Heckathorne was a dangerous man and was liable to jump over the gallery if he knew the officers were after him, so they would have to do their work quietly. After every detail for the capture had been arranged it was discovered that the man in the gallery was not Heckathorne.

DIED AT THE INFIRMARY.

Two Aged Women Pass Away at the County Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Lisbon, March 20. — (Special.)— Catherine Phillips, 66 years old, died at the county infirmary yesterday. She had been at the institution 21 years and was formerly a resident of Perry township.

Rachael Skelton, of Hanoverton, also died at the infirmary yesterday afternoon.

WELLSVILLE MINISTERS.

Plan to Hold a Union Evangelistic Meeting in May or June.

The members of the Wellsville Ministerial Association held a meeting at the home of Rev. Earl D. Holtz, D. D., and made plans for holding a union revival meeting in that city sometime late in May or early in June. It is expected that the meeting will continue for at least two weeks. There will be a large chorus to assist the meetings.

NO ACTION.

Not Enough Members of the Association Present to Transact Business.

Several members of the hospital association met last night at the Young Men's Christian Association parlors, but there wasn't enough present to do business. An attempt will be made to hold a meeting Friday night. The purpose of the meeting is to take some action toward commencing the erection of a hospital.

Saturday Night.

The Printing Pressmen's union will meet in Pittsburg next Saturday night. Two members from this city will be initiated.

Incorporated.

The Sanitary Reduction company, of this city, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000.

PROHIBITION PETITIONERS

The Necessary List to Get Their Party a Place on the Ticket Has Been Filed.

IT REQUIRED FIFTY NAMES

But the Party Had Five to Spare When They Finished Their Work.

FULL LIST OF THE NOMINATORS.

The Prohibitionists of the state did not cast enough votes at the last election to be known as a party, and it was necessary for the local members to have a petition signed by 50 people before they could get a place on the ticket in the coming municipal election.

The petition which the local Prohibitionists filed with Clerk Hanley is headed by a list of candidates and the following:

"We certify that we have not subscribed to any other nomination of candidates for any of the above offices, and we pledge ourselves to support and vote for the candidates whose nominations are herein requested."

The parties who signed the petition are:

Mayor C. F. Bough, Frank D. White, W. M. Morelan, W. A. Weaver, Collin Kinsey, C. M. McKeehan, Louis E. Weaver, S. J. Faulk, T. B. Bahl, Samuel B. Faulk, S. E. Anderson, W. B. Toland, W. A. Hill, David Coventry, S. S. Shay, C. H. Morrill, Will T. McNutt, Z. B. Kinsey, A. S. Young, J. C. Douglas, G. W. Kiddy, W. H. Wells, Ed. Hassey, E. S. A Change.

Adjutant Vandyke, of Cleveland, who has had charge of the Salvation army junior work in this district, has been transferred to New York, and Adjutant Lay will take charge of the work. Adjutant Vandyke was well known here and had many friends.

School Teacher Under Arrest.

John Schely, principal of the Berlin Center school, is under arrest for cruelly beating Lena Rakestraw, a 16-year-old girl. He is charged with having struck her several times with a fence rail.

Town Hall to Be Sold.

Mingo Junction town hall has been appraised at $8,000, and will be sold by the sheriff to satisfy a $140 damage judgment and costs awarded Mrs. Cordelia Stewart.

Took Judgment.

Lisbon, March 20. — (Special.)— W. W. Potts took judgment against Elmer E. Black, administrator of the estate of James McDonald in the sum of $250.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END. SOUTH SIDE.

The East Liverpool & Wellsville Street Railway company have made several attempts to change the route to East End at the power house, but so far each effort has failed. To change the route, according to the plans suggested by council, the company will be compelled to run their cars through the power house, and at present that is as far as they can go. Eighteen inches east of the power house wall is a tract of land owned by James Noah, of East End, 166 feet by 125. Mr. Noah stated yesterday that he was ready to sell the ground for $3,500. The street railway company has offered him $3,300. The company has been after the ground for over a year and parties not connected with the company have also made him offers, but none over $3,300. There is just a difference of $200, but as each side is set on its price the prospects for a deal are not very bright.

R. Strauss, of Salineville, spent yesterday in East End, the guest of Robert Foutts, of Mulberry street.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Althers is ill with a severe cold.

Dr. W. C. Mowen, of Mulberry street, is threatened with an attack of the grip.

The teachers at the Second Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a meeting in the church Friday evening for the purpose of arranging plans for work during the spring.

Clement Lemon, who was hurt by a fall at the Crockery City brewery, was able to sit up Sunday for the first time. His entire recovery is now only a matter of a short time.

E. H. Laughlin, of Pittsburg, was in the suburb yesterday visiting his parents.

Mrs. T. F. Anderson, of Pennsylvania avenue, who has been under the care of a physician for the last week, is improving.

The making of clay at the new National pottery was begun yesterday, and by the end of the week the management expect to have several clay workers busy.

Yesterday T. F. Anderson, manager of the K. T. & A. sewer pipe plant, under the control of the American Clay Manufacturing company, began the invoicing of stock. This work was done when C. A. Smith purchased the plant and when he sold another invoice had to be made. It will take several days to complete the work.

During Saturday and yesterday the people residing in the East End, who subscribed for the bonus to secure the new National pottery, received notices to pay up, and while some did so, most of the money is still outstanding and will have to be collected. The largest subscription was $100 from a prominent resident of Helana.

PRAYER SERVICE.

The Salvation Army Will Have a Half Night of Prayer Wednesday Night.

The Salvation army is arranging for a half-night of prayer next Wednesday evening in connection with their self denial services, which end Saturday. At the week ending the juniors will take charge of the services and will have charge all day Sunday. A special program has been arranged for the day and night services. The same program will be observed in all the corps of the state.

A valuable horse owned by Joseph Brunson died yesterday morning. This is the second he has lost within a month.

The case of G. W. Allison, of East Liverpool, against Benjamin Evans and William Plotts was heard before Justice Wash. Johnson yesterday afternoon in the Allison store. The suit was to recover some land, which Allison claims is being unlawfully held.

A car load of lathes for the new houses to be erected by C. A. Smith were received yesterday.

The car that jumped the track at the mill siding has been replaced on the track. The several cars of machinery that were on the siding awaiting the removal of the obstruction have been pushed into the mill and are now being unloaded.

There will be a public sale at the residence of Sarah Stewart one week from today.

Justice Wash. Johnson said yesterday it was not the most pleasant job in the world acting as a court house on wheels. He had in one of his overcoat pockets a bottle of ink, pens and pencils in another, transcripts in another and blank affidavits and warrants in a fourth. He said it seldom happened that a case was filed while he was at his office.

W. C. Allison yesterday was given judgment against John O'Brien by Justice Johnson for $2.51 for goods sold and delivered. An attachment was issued on the Panhandle to obtain some money O'Brien claims due, and the warrant given to Constable Allison.

Another case heard by Justice Johnson was that of Martin Herrington against O'Brien for $8.30, claimed due on a bill of groceries. The papers were given to Constable Allison, returnable Friday. Herrington claims O'Brien is now a resident of Steubenville.

Eph. Johnson, of Chester, left this morning for a week's stay up the Monongahela river doing some work for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He was accompanied by Engineer McConnell, who has charge of the construction of the extension of the Cumberland branch.

Again old car No. 2 has been placed on the Chester Street railway. The car has been repaired and is in fairly good condition.

Robert C. Newell, of Grant district, was visiting his relative, D. Ward, this week.

Dr. R. S. Donehoo, of Fairview, was in town yesterday. He reports a good deal of sickness in that section.

LOWER THE PEGS.

Council some time ago ordered and had all street water and gas boxes put down to grade in order that all possibility of a damage suit might be avoided. On several streets in the city there is another thing almost as dangerous, and that is the pegs in the sidewalks, left there for some unaccountable purpose unless it is for people to stumble over. Along Sixth street they are a few inches above the grade, and every day somebody stumbles over them. An attorney in speaking of the matter says the city would certainly be liable for damage if any person got hurt because of the pegs.

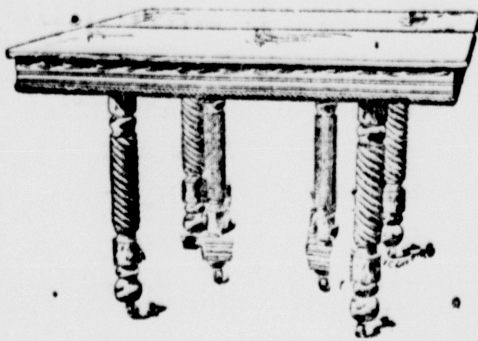

—Jack Harris spent last evening in the city and this morning left for Pittsburg, and from there he will go to Cleveland this afternoon.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

At the Grand Tonight.

Cameron Clemens and his excellent company opened a week's engagement at the Grand opera house last evening in the sensational melodrama, "Land of the Cajuns." A big feature with this company is the Glee Lady orchestra, an organization of talented lady musicians who render delightful vocal and instrumental selections during the intermissions. Speaking of the company the Yonkers (N. Y.) Herald says: "Last night Cameron Clemens and his company opened a week's engagement in Music hall, and judging from first impressions it will be a most successful one. Mr. Clemens is well remembered from former visits here, and is a great favorite with Yonkers theater goers." Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Tonight the company will present Oliver Doud Byon's famous scenic melodrama, "The Inside Track," and tomorrow afternoon an elaborate production of the famous drama, "East Lynne."

"The Christian."

Hall Caine's tremendously successful play, "The Christian," dramatized from his own novel of the same name, will be presented for the first time in this city on Thursday, April 19, at the Grand. "The Christian," as a play differs somewhat from the story, but only to the extent necessary to meet dramatic requirements. Glory Quayle appears as presented in the book. In the story John Storm is a controversial character, a personage whose sombre attributes as described by the author present him in the light of a religious fanatic. Holding in mind that people go to the theater for amusement and not to be preached at from behind the footlight, Mr. Caine has relieved the stage John Storm of his pronounced religious characteristics, and presents him as a noble, self-sacrificing man, the love existing between Glory Quayle and Storm forming the central motive of the dramatic story. Yet the changes which have been made in the character of Storm, and by the general construction of the play itself, will not, it is said, disappoint the readers of the book, who go to the theater to see the story and its characters translated to the stage.

MCKINLEY AS PROFESSOR.

To Be Member of American University Faculty, After Leaving the White House.

MILLVILLE, N. J., March 20.—Bishop Hurst in his sermon at the opening of the session of the New Jersey M. E. conference, in speaking of the American university at Washington said that President McKinley would, at the conclusion of his service as a public officer, accept the position of professor of international law at the university.

JOHN A. BINGHAM DEAD.

Ex-Minister to Japan—Helped Prosecute Lincoln's Assassins.

STREUBENVILLE, O., March 20.—Hon. J. A. Bingham, ex-minister to Japan and ex-congressman from this district, died at 10 o'clock. Bingham was an attorney for the prosecution in the trial of President Lincoln's assassins.

What He Prayed For.

A story is told of two worthy New England deacons, between whom a bitter feud had long existed concerning some contested point. Neither would give in, and the matter threatened to be handed down to the next generation, when one day Deacon Smith appeared before his enemy and solemnly said:

"Brother Jones, it is a shame that this quarrel of ours should bring scandal upon the church. I have prayed earnestly for guidance in the matter and have come to the conclusion that you must give in, for I cannot!"

Suspicious Aroused.

Smith: What's wrong, old man? You look worried.

Jones: I am. You know I had my life insured last week?

Smith: Yes, but what has that got to do with it?

LAWYER IN POLITICS HE IS A SPLENDID MAN

He Has Gathered Up the Best Short Sketch of Hon. C. C. Baker's Life.

IS NOW AFTER THE BALANCE WOULD BE RIGHT KIND OF MAN

Great Danger to the Public Welfare Unless a Halt Is Called--A Few Pertinent Points That It Would Be Well for the Voters to Consider Before They Cast Their Ballots.

Did it ever occur to you that the population of the United States at the present time is about seventy millions, and that of this seventy millions only about fifty thousand are lawyers, that is one lawyer to every fourteen hundred of the people.

On the other hand did you ever stop to think of the great number of lawyers who are holding office as compared with the total population. National, state and county, legislative, executive and judicial. You will find a great proportion, and all the best offices filled by lawyers.

They make your laws, they execute your laws and they judge your laws. The only thing you can do is to find fault with the laws, and when it comes to a nomination or election you are told that the only person who is competent to represent you in the office to be filled is the "Wind Jammer" lawyer, who is always a candidate, because he can make a speech.

They have made us believe that a certain part of the offices can be filled by lawyers only, and they are trying hard to create the belief that the balance must be filled in the same way; only one year ago we had a lawyer candidate for the office of sheriff of this county, who tried hard to convince the people that the sheriff's office could be managed properly by no one but a lawyer.

What do you think of this, Mr. Merchant, Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Mechanic, Mr. Laborer and Mr. Citizen generally? Are we to relinquish our rights to the scheming lawyer politician because he can make a speech?

Are honesty, industry and ability to count for nothing, and are all the lawyers to fill all the offices because they can make a speech?

Using this same argument it will not be long until they tell you the offices of mayor, councilmen, clerk, treasurer, assessor, constable, etc., must be filled by lawyers, because they can make a speech.

Must we turn over the entire government of the nation, state, county and township to the lawyer, because he can make a speech, without reference to his reputation for truth, honesty, industry and ability?

Do you think that this great country of ours was built up and is maintained by wind, or do you think that that which is best about our country has been the result of careful, painstaking effort, business ability, honesty and good judgment?

J. K. BROTHERS AND FAMILY.

To Represent the District in Congress and Would Serve His Constituents Well--He Served Three Years During the Rebellion, With Honor to Himself and Country, and Was Auditor of This County For Two Terms.

A representative of this paper had the pleasure of meeting Hon. Charles C. Baker, of Alliance, when he was in this city a day or so ago. At this time it is not necessary to repeat that Mr. Baker is desirous of filling Hon. R. W. Taylor's seat in congress. This is well known throughout the Eighteenth congressional district of Ohio. However, there are many points of interest in Mr. Baker's life that are not known to all persons.

Charles C. Baker was born of humble but industrious parents in Pennsylvania. When he was 10 years old his father, John Baker, moved his family to Ohio. They settled in Unity township, this county. There the subject of this brief sketch labored and grew toward robust manhood until he was 18 years old.

At that time the horrors of the greatest war of the century, if not of all time, launched themselves in an effort to disrupt the glorious union. Though a boy then Mr. Baker enlisted with Co. C., Sixth Ohio cavalry. For three years he fought for all that the country now holds dear. After the war he returned to peaceful pursuits on the farm. That work claimed his attention until 1869 when he came to Salem and was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue by the late Jesse Duck, known to all Salem citizens. Later Mr. Baker associated with John R. Vernon in the publication of the Journal. These varied employments gave him that best of all schooling, a liberal, general education, and admirably fitted him for his enviable public career to follow later.

In 1880 this farmer, printer and master of politics was elected auditor of Columbiana county on the Republican ticket. He served two terms in this office with honor to himself and credit to the county. As auditor he established a precedent for plain, business-like administration. The record he made there cannot be surpassed if equalled.

After leaving the office Mr. Baker located in Alliance as contracting agent of the Penn Bridge Co., of Beaver Falls, Pa. This work has brought him in contact with state, municipal and county officials of various states. This has served to broaden and develop the man, until today he stands as a representative American citizen in whom the nation may find one of her strongest supporters. His extensive experiences have brought success to himself, as well as to those whom he has represented.

In Alliance and Stark county Mr. Baker has had honor thrust upon him by being elected a member of the board of education, water works trustee and president of the Alliance Bank Co. He was also appointed trustee of the construction of the magnificent court house at Canton.

All this has fitted Mr. Baker for higher public service, entitle him to it and insure a faithful, representative performance of duties should he be fortunate enough to secure the seat in the national house to which he now aspires.

Mr. Baker is a personal friend of President McKinley, as well as a friend of all with whom he has come in contact during his years of public and private life. Possibly the briefest summing up of the man is contained in these words: he is ever mindful of his friends. Is there anything higher or better to be striven for?

WHEELING STOGIES.

Representative Here to Warn Dealers of the Permanent Injunction.

F. D. Thomas, representing the National Stogie Makers' union and the Wheeling stogie manufacturers, arrived in town yesterday for the purpose of warning the retail dealers that any person selling tobies manufactured elsewhere than in the city of Wheeling as "Wheeling" tobies would be liable to prosecution, and a committee on injunction from both the stogie makers' union and the manufacturers will see that legal steps are at once taken against the violators who persist after being warned. The injunction handed down by the United States court of the district of Massachusetts and made perpetual is as follows:

"We, therefore, enjoin and command, you shall not directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale, any stogies in boxes or packages bearing the word "Wheeling," except only stogies actually manufactured in the city of Wheeling, in the state of West Virginia, nor directly or indirectly sell or deliver to any persons who ask for and who desire to purchase "Wheeling stogies" any article or stogies other than the genuine Wheeling stogies, manufactured and made in the city of Wheeling."

THE WRONG COAT.

The Electric Current Struck and Astonished His Spinal Column.

A young gentleman of East Liverpool had occasion to visit a snug home residence in our city yesterday. He divorced himself from his overcoat, hung the garment in the hallway and entered the parlor, where he indulged in pleasing conversation for a short time. Duty calling him to another point, his host picked up an overcoat and assisted the young man partially into the same, when the latter exclaimed:

Investigation developed the fact that an expert electrician was visiting a handsome young damsel in the same homestead, and that his coat had in some manner become fully charged with the electric current. It is suggested that the young lady in question is a powerful magnet.

The board of education met in the directors' room at the Central building last evening. Four members were present, Messrs. Smith, Norris and Williams being absent.

A letter from Edwin Roberts, thanking the board for the resolution of sympathy on the death of his wife passed at the last meeting, was received.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman read the following:

"To the Honorable Board of Education: "GENTLEMEN—I hereby submit a report of the investigation made concerning the collections taken in schools for the purpose of paying piano rent. There seems to have been some misunderstanding.

"It is found that the names were not placed upon the boards, together with the amounts due.

"It is found that pupils were not sent home and told to remain at home until the amount was paid

"It is found, however, that several children were detained a few minutes after school for consultation about the payment of this amount and in one case a pupil was sent home for a written statement from the parent.

"Further, it has been ordered that no collections of any kind whatever shall be taken without the consent of the board of education.

Rev. W. R. M. Denny, representing the Children's Home society of Ohio, made a statement to the board of the methods and objects of the society, and

The door that Denny saw had this inscription over it: "Despair of hope, all ye who enter here." When man despairs of hope he drains the very dregs of despair.

There are certain forms of disease to which medical ignorance and popular superstition have given the title of "Hopeless." That very fact handicaps the sufferers from such diseases by robbing them of the courage to try to regain health. This is particularly true of lung diseases. As soon as disease fastens on the lungs, the victim sits down, makes his will, and awaits his fate. He wouldn't act that way if he were bitten by a tarantula or a rattlesnake. He'd fight then for his life. But he is under the influence of the ignorant and superstitious, that write "Despair of hope" over the door of such diseases as by neglect or unskillful treatment may end fatally in consumption.

There is a new inscription for that doorway of disease, made by rubbing out the first two words and leaving it: "Hope all ye who enter here." What! Can there be hope for the sufferer with the constant cough, flushed face, burdened breathing and emaciated body? The record says "yes." Ninety-eight out of every hundred cases in which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been used have been permanently cured. "Golden Medical Discovery" positively cures weak lungs, bronchitis, obstinate lingering cough, bleeding of the lungs and kindred ailments, which, if neglected, find a fatal ending in consumption. It contains no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant.

"Your medicine is the best I have ever taken," writes Mrs. Jennie Langman of Vanburen, Kansas Co., Mich. "Last spring I had a bad cough, got so bad I had to be in bed all the time. My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough stopped and I have since had no signs of its returning."

Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the best for the bowels. Use them with the "Discovery."

asked permission to take up a collection in the public schools. Following his remarks Clerk Hill presented the following resolution:

"The board regrets that its rules forbid the taking up of collections for any purpose in buildings under its control, and, under the circumstances, it is impossible to grant Mr. Denny's request."

The resolution was adopted. After adjournment the board examined a number of specimens of penmanship submitted by scholars in the lower grades.

"Vote for C. C. Baker for congress."

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many East Liverpool People.

It's a common error.

To plaster the aching back.

To rub with liniment rheumatic joints when the trouble comes from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills and are endorsed by East Liverpool citizens.

Mr. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, says:—"During three years I had attacks of dull steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long, and I often had headaches, dizziness, and in the morning great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at the W. & W. pharmacy to be more suitable for my complaint than anything that I had ever tried.

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

A good deal of the Boer sympathy was dispelled at Paardeburg.

Kansas is to have a big exposition.
 Well, Kansas deserves a show now
 she has lopped off her wind and whiskers.

Pop Anson of ball fame has been mentioned for alderman in Chicago.
 Adrian should have no trouble in making a home run.

And now the English say the refusals of the Irish to wear the green, now that it has become lawful, is another evidence of the cussedness of
 the race.

TAKE IT HOME.

Think of it, man, and act wisely
 and well. Your dear ones at home, father, mother, wife or little ones,
 will thank God for your goodness and kindness. Don't toll all day at workshops, bench, pottery, or whatever occupation you may be engaged in,
 and then give your earnings to the saloon keeper, receiving in return
 from him headaches, sorrow, suffering, penury and perdition. Exercise common sense, man, and let the saloon keeper and his bartenders go to work like you do, and earn an honest
 and honorable living. Turn in, man,
 and assist in driving out of this
 grand nation the unAmerican saloon.
 Act today, man, and God will bless

you for every right step you take,
 from a pure motive.

STARTLING STATEMENT.

A prominent business man asserts that drunkenness is decidedly on the increase in East Liverpool. And the assertion is made by a second business man that the saloonkeepers are becoming much more bold in their defiance of law and of decency, and that selling after hours and on Sunday have become common features
 in many of the dives and hell holes
 of the city. And a third business man states that the better class of citizens are becoming thoroughly aroused and indignant on account of
 the number of insolent drunken men
 to be seen daily and nightly on our streets. Is it not high time to call a halt? Should not Mayor Bough issue orders that his roundsmen shall exercise greater vigilance in bringing these offenders and outlaws to justice? The Liquor league counted itself as smart and cunning in its purchase of votes and the defeat of the Clark bill. May it not be that the "devil has deserted his own," and that the righteous indignation of an outraged public opinion will result in the exclusion of the saloon from the municipality instead

THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

Fitness, Ability and Locality of Judge Taylor All Conceded in His Favor.

The candidacy of Judge Isaac H.
 Taylor for renomination to the judgeship of the court of common pleas of this district is meeting with general favor and gives proof of the popularity of the judge, not only in Carroll county, but throughout the district.
 His fitness for the position is conceded by all who know him. His reputation for ability, integrity and fairness has been well established. During his entire tenure of office not even the faintest suspicion has been entertained that he has permitted his personal likes or dislikes to influence his judgment in any case ever brought before him. His treatment of attorneys has been uniformly courteous.
 Dignified in deportment, clear in his exposition of law and careful in his rulings he has won the esteem of some of Ohio's most eminent prac-
 lawyer, Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland, who gives it as his opinion that Isaac
 H. Taylor is one of the most profound and learned judges now occupying the bench in the state.

Located as Judge Taylor is in Carroll county, the county from which
 the vacancy in the judgeship occurs,
 he is the logical candidate. From the flattering notices which have appeared in the press throughout the district concerning his candidacy and
 the warm words of approval heard in support of it, it would seem that his renomination is a foregone conclusion. This is as it should be. If,
 when the judicial convention assembles to make a nomination Judge Taylor should be chosen as his successor
 by acclamation the district would honor itself more than it would honor
 the man who has presided over its

OTHER POLICE COURT CASES.

Mayor Bough had a good day yesterday and the result of his labor added a lot of money to the city treasury.

The first party to face the mayor was Michael O'Malley, who was charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He acknowledged that
 Sunday. The mayor fined him $50 and costs, and he enriched the city coffers
 just $54.60.

Chalmer McClurg was the next man
 up. He said he was in the saloon of O'Malley on Sunday and had drank
 there. He paid $10.60.

Isaac Eoff was in the same boat as McClurg, and it cost him the same amount, $10.60.

Amos Reed had no difficulty in providing that he was a cook at O'Malley's and was attending to his duties when the raid took place. He was dismissed.

William McKeever and John Haley
 said they didn't drink in the place,
 and the officers hadn't seen them
 drink. While this didn't excuse them,
 the testimony surrounding their case
 was such that the mayor thought he was justified in dismissing them.

Ed. R. Frederick, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Martha J. Smith, failed to put in an appearance last night and the $10 he put up for his appearance was declared forfeited.

Michael Malone, who was arrested
 Sunday night by Officer Mahony for giving a concert on Market street, called on the mayor last night and
 paid $9.60 for his song.

Thomas Connors, the Chester man arrested Saturday night for being drunk, cashed up last night and it cost him $7.60.

Ernest Kretshmer succeeded in getting the amount of his fine yesterday afternoon and was released. The jail is now empty.

There was one lodger in the city
 jail last night.

The mayor held court until after 9 o'clock last night, but it was a paying session.

Indignation at Lisbon.

(Communicated.)

Lisbon, March 20.—There is a strong feeling of indignation here
 among the friends of the various candidates at last Saturday's nomination against Robert W.
 Taylor. There were 30 candidates at Saturday's nomination, all home candidates and neighbors of Mr. Tayler. He was in the county, yet did not take interest enough in any of
 them to come home and cast his ballot. They are now asking: "What can Mr. Taylor expect when he treats his home people in this way?" The past few days has seen some wonderful changes. Look out for a landslide next Saturday.

TAYLER AND THE POTTERY SCHEDULE.

What General Grosvenor Says About
 It—How Tayler Fought
 the Battle.

(Washington Correspondent Canton Repository.)

At the congressional dinner, previously mentioned, Speaker Henderson spoke of General Grosvenor as
 "the most universally used and useful man in the majority," and none sought to win from the Athens seer
 and political prophet the coveted
 honor: "I thought the first time Tayler spoke in the house that he made a mess of it," says the general.
 "He took the floor in behalf of a Democrat in an election case and defended a principle of law that I considered ill founded. I thought the break would be the death of him politically,
 but he defended his position so adroitly and with such consummate skill from the attacks of his opponents in
 the committee that he won the ap-

Framing the Dingley Bill.

"Then when it came to the framing
 of the so-called Dingley bill he became much in evidence. It seemed every article affected by the schedule
 interested his constituents. I think no one who served on the committee will forget his fight for the pottery
 schedule and his claims were adopted.
 He fought the battle for his East Liverpool constituents and finally won.
 Then he began a war in behalf of a great Canton industry and won a victory. Steel and iron and all sorts of manufactured products came under his protection and none escaped his notice. Even the chicle of chewing gum came in for his defense. With a due respect for those who have departed from our earthly presence,
 I believe Robert Tayler had more to do with the successful framing of the Dingley tariff bill as it went to the senate in so far as it pertained to the interests of the industries of his district than any other man in our party.
 What he has done recently each daily paper records and certainly there is not a man of morality, or a mother,

Proud of His Defense

of the American fireside, the family
 circle, the sacred foundation of liberty and its incarnation, the American nation. Tayler is a leader among leaders—a most valuable colleague and a credit to our great state. When Ohio gets to sending more men like him
 to congress and to keeping them
 there, our people will receive the benefit of wiser and more extended legislation."

Cabs Not Admitted.

Americans visiting London for the first time are more than likely to hail
 a hansom the day they arrive and start promptly to see the row. Half the
 books, stories, newspaper articles, etc.,
 treating of English life make prominent mention of this the smartest driveway in the world. London society circles largely about Hyde park,
 and naturally enough tourists regard
 it as a good starting place from which to study British manners and peoples.

Imagine, then, the indignation and
 the disgust of a pair of pretty girls, accustomed to traverse home drives in any fashion they like, warned back
 from Hyde park entrance by a six foot arm of the law. No tips, no remonstrance, no pleading, has the slightest effect upon the stern "bobby,"
 who simply orders cabby to depart
 and tells his fares to get a more correct equipage if they desire to take part in the row parade.

It is lively or nothing, and if the visitor continues to long for a glimpse of the Hyde park show she must have boots and breeches to drive her, thereby having at least the semblance of a private establishment. No admittance
 cab.—Boston Globe.

CUMMINGS IS STILL LIVING

Was Removed to More Comfortable Quarters Last Evening

BUT HE CANNOT LIVE LONG

His Treatment Arouses Much Indignation and Leads to Action.

There was much talk on the South-side yesterday over the terrible deed committed Sunday, but none equalled that heard about the manner in which the Hancock county authorities allowed John Cummings to remain in the small shanty, where he had been placed by G. A. Arner and Garrett Mercer. It is admitted by all that Cummings was likely to die at any time, but all also agree that he should have had better treatment. William A. Gardner, when he saw the man lying in the shanty, said: "This is nothing short of inhumanity. The idea of the people of Chester and even of Hancock county permitting this man to lie in that place without medical attention as long as they did is revolting."

Dr. F. M. Laughlin was seen in his office this morning and made the following statement about the condition of Cummings:

"When I was called to the South-side Sunday I did not know how badly the man had been injured. When I saw him in the little shanty and the nature of his surroundings I knew it was no place for a man in the condition that Cummings was. I suggested to the people of Chester to collect a small amount of money and send the man to a Pittsburg hospital, but this was not done. I have made a thorough examination of the case and read the best works treating on cases of that character. The people of Chester think that a great many things should have been done for the man, but I believe they did not know the gravity of the case."

When Dr. Laughlin was asked why an operation was not performed he replied: "No operation is indicated until the man has reacted from all concussion. If after several days he has reacted from the effects of the concussion, and still remains unconscious, you know then that it is due to blood clots on the brain, or pressure due to broken pieces of bone from the inner table of the skull. The question is then whether an operation would benefit his condition. The operation, if one should be performed, should be in no place other than a hospital and under the most skilled surgeons. The operation is one of the most delicate known in surgery."

When Constable R. E. Allison placed John Purvis in the county jail at New Cumberland Sunday evening he made a charge of assault and battery against him. He will remain in jail until next week, when he will be given a hearing. While going to Cumberland Allison attempted to get Purvis to talk, but he would not. He told the officer he would think the matter over for a few days before he would make a statement.

Prosecutor McKenzie, of New Cumberland, was in Chester yesterday afternoon investigating the trouble, but he learned nothing but what had been published last evening. He returned to his home last night and will return to Chester tomorrow morning.

Samuel A. Allison, overseer of the poor of Grant district, took charge of Cummings yesterday afternoon. He rented a room in the Thompson block, which was formerly occupied by the Russell family. At 5 o'clock last evening Cummings was removed from the little shanty where he had been since Sunday morning to this room.

It was in this room Dr. Laughlin visited him last evening and made an examination. At a late hour this afternoon Cummings was sinking rapidly, and those about him did not expect him to live until night.

ONE CHANCE IN A HUNDRED.

Doctors Hobbs and Laughlin Will Perform an Operation This Afternoon.

Drs. W. A. Hobbs and F. M. Laughlin will perform an operation upon Cummings this afternoon. They say there is one chance in a hundred that the man's life can be saved. The overseers of Grant district authorized the engagement of the surgeons, but it is understood that C. A. Smith, of this city, will bear the expenses.

A Bad Man to Interrupt.
"W'en Moses tell de sun ter stan' still"--began the old deacon.
"Dat warn't Moses," interjected a brother in the amen corner; "dat wuz Joshua!"

"Ez I said," continued the deacon, "w'en Joshua tell de sun"--

The deacon's patience was exhausted. He folded his brass rimmed spectacles, laid them carefully on the table before him, walked over to the amen corner, took the objecting brother by both arms from behind and, with the swish of a cyclone, swept him forward toward the door, landing him precipitately in outer darkness.

"Ez I wuz sayin fob dis little incident occurred," he continued, "w'en Moses tole Joshua ter tell de sun ter stan' still!"

Some of the older, learned brethren moved uneasily in their seats. They looked as if they wanted to correct him, but they did not. They let it go at that. —Atlanta Constitution.

Character in the Hair.
If your hair is fine, it denotes gentle birth. If the ends cling together, it is a sign of great intellectuality, and a tendency to curl shows inherent grace and a poetic nature.

These are some of the things set forth by the science of hair reading, yet undeveloped, but likely to "give us away" in a manner often more accurate than pleasing.

This science tells us, too, that the person with straight hair has a firm, positive and practical disposition. Color shows the temperament. For instance, it is well to watch out for the person with black, lusterless hair. He's apt to be treacherous and jealous. The lighter the hair the more sensitive and "touchy" its owner. Brown hair belongs to him who has common sense, good judgment and reason in high degree, which would indicate that humanity isn't even half bad. Red hair shows honesty and cleverness.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE SITE

Options Secured on Hall, Cannon and Smith Properties, Sixth Street.

COMPANY NOW BEING FORMED

The Capital Stock Will Be $60,000 and the Building Will Be Modern.

WILL BE GROUND FLOOR.

The fact that a new opera house is to be built in the city was given to the public exclusively by the News Review several weeks ago, and the parties who have the matter in charge have at last succeeded in negotiations on the site and subscriptions for the stock are now being taken.

The site consists of the Hall, Smith and Cannon properties, lying on the north side of Sixth street, a short distance from the Diamond. The theater will be located in the rear of the lot, will be ground floor 70x115 feet, with a 20-foot entrance from Sixth street. The front of the property will be used for business blocks. The company will be capitalized at $60,000 and every effort will be made to have the opera house ready for the season of 1900-01.

"Years ago," said a Maine man, "I was standing beside a gun at a state muster at Augusta when a salute to the governor, who had just come on the field, was being fired. The cannon used was of the old fashioned kind, and it was prematurely discharged, with the result that the index finger of the right hand of the man ramming the load home was blown off. The shock, together with the lodgment of flying particles of powder, had the effect of driving the blood back from the wound, during which fragment of time the injured man calmly examined his mangled hand, but when the blood did come back it came with a rush and fairly bubbled out in a torrent. The man's calmness left him as if by magic at the sight of the blood, and, with a loud scream, he keeled over in a dead faint."

"They used to tell a story of two men who were working on opposite sides of a buzzsaw. The attention of one becoming momentarily distracted, he ran his finger against the saw, and the severed piece dropped on the other side, where his partner was working. That worthy picked it up and, with the casual remark, 'Bill, you've dropped something,' handed it back to its owner. 'Bill didn't faint, but it is only owing to the superior burst of speed developed by his partner that he is not doing time for homicide.'" —New York Tribune

STATEMENT OF HIS VICTORY IN THE ROBERTS CASE.

The Right of the House of Representatives to Ignore Credentials Is Now Established

Regarding the prominent part taken by Congressman R. W. Tayler in the Roberts case, and the precedent established that the house has the right to discard credentials and deny what has been considered the inalienable right to be sworn in, the Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer has the following:

"The wonder of it all is the manner in which Tayler, of Ohio, whipped them into line."

"The denial to Roberts of the right to be sworn in is the personal triumph of Tayler. By what arts, what conjuration and what mighty magic he won them over will ever remain a mystery, save as they exist in the personal qualities of Tayler himself. Why, the majority of Republicans at first blush repelled the idea of denying the right to be sworn in. There are interviews galore on the subject. Cannon declared that a man would make himself ridiculous who sought to brush aside a right so inalienable. Daltzell said that the right to be sworn in upon proper credentials was undeniable. Scores spoke along the same line, but you see, they had not yet heard from Tayler."

"When Tayler had finished a new authority in the house procedure had been established and the fact that it is likely to breed chaos in the future does not detract but rather adds to the persuasive eloquence of the member from Lisbon. For charmed he ever so wisely and he convinced them against their wills. I do not speak so much of those who felt the party lash, but of the others who came at the golden voice of the magician."

Force of Habit.
In 1827 just after Dan Dougherty, the Irish pugilist, fought his famous fight with Jem Belcher, the English fighter, on the curragh of Kildare, near Dublin he became involved in a controversy with an unknown. The latter was not a pugilist, and, not wishing to take any advantage of his opponent, Dougherty consented to fight him with pistols. The two met by appointment, but their seconds, unknown to them, extracted the balls from the pistols and substituted blank cartridges. By the terms of the agreement between the principals Dougherty's opponent was to have the first shot. The natural instinct prevailed even on the dueling ground, and as the fighter's opponent raised his arm to fire Dougherty elevated his right arm, as if to ward off a blow, evidently intending to stop the bullet from hitting him in the face. After this who can say that fighters are not dezo game men? —Kansas City Independent

EARNED THE QUARTER.

An Attorney and Undertaker Rolled a Bundle of Hides For 25 Cents.

This morning a Sixth street shoemaker received a bundle of hides which he was very anxious of having weighed and made the remark that he would be willing to pay 25 cents to get them weighed. A lawyer and undertaker who were present said they would take the hides down street and get them weighed for the money. They got the contract and had not taken the hides 10 feet until they rued their bargain, but would not back out. It took them half an hour to do the work, and they discovered that the hides weighed 255 pounds. They were dirty and grimy when they got back and were greeted with much applause by the large audience that had gathered to see the finish.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Christian Endeavorers to Meet at M. P. Church For Two Days In June.

Arrangements are now being made for the holding of the annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Pittsburg conference of the Methodist Protestant church in this city. The exact dates have not been set, but it is intended to hold the convention early in June. District officers will be elected and the session will last two days. It is said the convention will bring several hundred people to the city.

THE ASSASSIN NAMED

Golden Revealed the Plot to Tom Campbell.

8,000 MEN NEEDED TO TAKE HIM.

Declared He Was in a Certain County in Eastern Kentucky—Present Officials and Ex-State Officials Concerned in the Conspiracy.

CINCINNATI, March 20.—Mr. T. C. Campbell, who has been employed by the brothers of the late William Goebel to assist in the prosecution of the assassin of Mr. Goebel, was here, fresh from a conference with his associates, held at Lexington. In conversation, Mr. Campbell was unwilling to disclose the state of their case, but he said that, so far as now known, the assassin was not yet arrested. He added that the assassin would be arrested whenever a force of 8,000 armed men could be had to go to a certain county in eastern Kentucky.

He said further that the attorneys for the commonwealth claim to have proof to establish a conspiracy for the assassination, but he made the assertion that this conspiracy was not charged against the Republican leaders, but against what is known as the "anti Goebel party." He further said it includes men who were officials prior to the late election, and men who thought they became officials after the late election.

Mr. Campbell has been in consultation, at Barboursville, Ky., with a brother of Captain Golden, who was shot by Colson. It is said he revealed the plot.

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 20.—A telephone message from Winchester, 18 miles from this city, says that G. W. Golden, alleged to have made an incriminating statement with reference to the Goebel murder, is in Winchester. He refused to see anyone. The Goebel men are keeping strict watch on his movements. He is not registered at the hotel. It is reported that he is in conference with the Goebel men at Winchester. An unconfirmed rumor there to-night is that he has given the name of the man whom he says shot Goebel.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 20.—The news of the alleged confession of F. Wharton Golden, of Barboursville, in regard to the assassination of William Goebel, produced a sensation here. Golden was formerly a guard at the penitentiary here, under the Republican administration, and is well known. It developed that the police and detectives have been watching his movements since the day of the assassination, on the theory that he knew something about it. Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin and County Attorney Polsgrove declined to discuss the alleged confession, as did others who are assisting in the prosecution, though one went so far as to say Mr. Golden will be one of the most important witnesses introduced by the state.

Some regret that this matter became public so soon, as they fear it will make it dangerous for him to return to his home at Barboursville, and that it may also seriously impede the prosecution in work which has been going on for several weeks, and which might have led to other developments soon. Caleb Powers, the Republican secretary of state, who is in jail charged with being an accessory to the assassination, and who is alleged to be implicated by Golden, refused to discuss the confession story in any form.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., March 20.—The report that F. W. Golden had turned state's evidence in the Goebel murder case, was a great surprise here. Green Golden, cousin of Wharton, says it was utterly false that he was sent by Powers to keep Wharton from going to Frankfort. F. W. Golden was a close friend of Caleb Powers, doing a good deal of work for him during the campaign.

It is said that he left here, on a telegram from the attorneys for the prosecution to come to Lexington. When the news reached here that he had made a confession, friends of the accused parties became very uneasy, and prominent Republicans said if it should be true, "the trees would bear fruit that they never bore before." It is also learned that ex-Representative Berry Howard and F. M. Cecil, of Middlesboro, were here Saturday night, in consultation with Golden. Cecil was sergeant-at-arms at the session of the legislature at London.

Soldiers are still on duty day and night. Captain Hawn will not recognize Taylor, and so the arms have been placed under the control of Lieutenant Gibson.

Democrats Filed a Demurrer.

LOUISVILLE, March 20.—Governors Beckham and Taylor took the same train to Frankfort. The Democratic attorneys filed with Judge Field a demurrer to the amended answer of the Republicans in the governorship suit.

ADVICE TO AGUINALDO.

Potter Said Friends Told Him His Cause Was Hopeless—Bishop Praises General Otis.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Bishop Potter, who has just returned from a five month's tour, which included visits to the Philippines, Japan and India, said when Japan has taught the Chinese the art of war, neither England, Russia nor Germany will decide the fate of the east. Referring to the Philippine situation, Bishop Potter said in part:

"Whatever we might have done a year or more back, there is but one thing for us to do now, and that is to hold on to the islands and assume the responsibility for their future. The military administration of the islands is beyond praise. General Otis has not received half the recognition to which he is entitled."

He said the Filipinos were not capable of self-government.

"Several friends of Aguinaldo," continued the bishop, "called upon me in Hongkong, and they told me that they were satisfied that there could be no success for his undertaking. The better class of Filipinos are satisfied that American occupation means increased prosperity, and are not raising any objections."

Roman Catholic religion was pretty generally observed, and as education spreads the tenets of the Anglican church will receive general acceptance. Much of the good order existing and the many manifestations of good will to the Americans, Bishop Potter attributes to the high moral character of the American soldiers.

CHINESE AGITATION.

Reports of Anti-Foreign Demonstrations Exaggerated, Say Officials at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Admiral Watson has not yet advised the navy department of the name of the vessel selected to proceed from Manila to Taku, in accordance with the request of the state department that a ship be sent to China to safeguard American interests. It is said at the state department that the extent of the agitation in China has been very much exaggerated. It is asserted that as a matter of fact there is no more disturbance in China now, as a whole, than at any time during the past 20 years.

But the concentration of the world's attention upon the Flowery Kingdom has had the effect of magnifying little troubles in the various provinces out of all proportion to their real importance and significance. That is said to be true as to this last demonstration by the "boxers," a secret society of anti-foreign tendencies.

HOUSE REFUSED TO CONCUR.

Would Not Agree to Senate Amendments to Porto Rican Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The house refused to concur in the senate amendments to the Porto Rican relief bill. The Democrats supported a motion to concur on the ground that it would avoid further delay in extending relief to the inhabitants of the island, but the Republicans stood firmly behind Chairman Cannon in his demand that the house should insist upon its original provision to appropriate not only the money collected on Porto Rican goods up to Jan. 1, but all subsequent monies collected or are to be collected.

The remainder of the day was devoted to District of Columbia business.

Merriam Was Not in Control.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—At the Cour d'Alene investigation Representative Hay, of Virginia, directed the examination with a view to disclosing how far the United States troops were under the control and direction of Governor Steunenberg and his executive official in Shoshone county, Bartlett Sinclair. J. H. Forney said General Merriam was not the responsible commander, as the governor and Mr. Sinclair directed affairs.

Railroad Sold at Auction.

JOPLIN, Mo., March 20.—The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad was sold at public auction, to satisfy a $23,000,000 mortgage, with one year's accrued interest, held by the State Trust company, of New York. But one bid was made, that by Silas W. Pettit, chief counsel of the Philadelphia reorganization committee, of $12,500,000, the upset price.

Two Killed by a Bull.

TRANS-ATLANTIC TRAVELERS

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or O. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

1,000,000 TO EQUIP SOLDIERS.

War Department to Ship Goods to Men in Philippines.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Colonel Patten, of the quartermaster general's office, completed arrangements for the shipment of about $1,000,000 worth of clothing and equipment to Manila for the use of the troops in the Philippines during the next six months.

These shipments will be made by way of New York and San Francisco by the first available transports, and are in response to cabled requisitions from Colonel Miller, the depot quartermaster at Manila.

Bryan Said Filipinos as Citizens Will Menace Us.

WILL WE HOLD THEM AS SLAVES?

Said Republicans Took Islands Without Considering What to Do With the Natives—Attacks Features of the New Currency Bill.

LINCOLN, March 20.—W. J. Bryan spoke here at the State Democratic convention to-day. His speech might be said to have practically outlined the policy of the Democrats in the next National campaign.

Mr. Bryan, in his speech before the Democratic convention, charged the Republican party with practicing a deliberate fraud upon the voters in 1896, by holding out the hope of international bimetalism, when the leaders neither expected nor desired the restoration of the double standard, either by independent action or by international agreement. He denounced the currency feature of the financial bill and said that the Republican party had never in a campaign advocated the retirement of the greenbacks, and that it would not be able to defend that bill before the country. He said that a national bank currency secured by government bonds could not be a permanent settlement of the currency question, unless we had a permanent and increasing national debt.

On the trust question he reiterated his condemnation of the Republican party, saying: "The trust is so bad a thing that the president felt it necessary to denounce trusts in his message last December, but he did not recommend a remedy."

He said a Republican congress listened to the reading of the message and then proceeded to establish a paper money trust, which gives to the people a larger chance of injury and to the banks a larger opportunity for profit than any other trust in existence.

He said that the Republican party was powerless to interfere with the trusts, because the leading Republicans were connected with the trusts, and the party had to rely upon trust contributions to carry on the coming campaign. He presented and defended the remedy which he suggested at the anti-trust meeting in Chicago, last fall, and which he has frequently discussed since that time.

He referred to the Porto Rico bill and said in part:

"The desire to impose import duties on goods coming from Porto Rico compelled the Republican party to disclose its imperialistic tendencies. This bill has aroused a storm of protest from Republicans in public and private life. But why should any Republican be surprised? Imperialism means that the people brought under the flag are not to share in the guarantees of the constitution. It is amazing that Republicans have contemplated the permanent acquisition of the Philippine Islands without stopping to consider the future status of the Filipinos. Are the Filipinos to be citizens? Are they to be allowed to come to the United States with their oriental methods of living to compete with American labor? What good does it do to exclude a few Chinese, and then bring in by force 8,000,000 of Filipinos? Is a presidential contest to be determined by the returns from the Philippine Islands? Are the questions which concern our own people to be decided day by day by the senators and representatives in congress from the Philippine Islands? And if the Filipinos are not to be citizens are we going to change our constitution so as to hold them in a perpetual state of vassalage? Prof. Schurman, one of the president's commissioners, says that this bill will arouse suspicion in the mind of the Filipino as to his future condition."

"The only settlement of the Philippine question consistent with American interests and American principles is the settlement proposed by the Democrats in the senate before war broke out in the Philippine islands, namely: A declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos independence as soon as a stable government is established. When that declaration is made, hostilities will cease, and it will be easy to establish a stable government. To independence should be added protection from outside interference. It will be sufficient for the United States to announce that any molestation of the Philippines will be considered an unfriendly act."

Mr. Bryan devoted some time to the discussion of the trade argument made in behalf of the Philippine islands, and quoted a letter written by Benjamin Franklin to Lord Howe in June, 1776. The extract from Franklin's letter is as follows:

"The well-founded esteem and affection which I shall always have for your country make it painful to me to see you engaged in conducting a war, the great ground of which (as described in your letter) is the necessity for preventing the American trade from passing into foreign channels. To me it seems that neither the obtaining or retaining of any trade, how valuable soever, is an object for which men may justly spill each other's blood; that the true and sure means of extending and securing commerce are the goodness and cheapness of commodities; and that the profits of no trade can ever be equal to the expense of compelling it and holding it by fleets and arms. I consider this war against us, therefore, as both unjust and unwise; and I am persuaded that cool and dispassionate posterity will condemn to infamy those who advised it; and that even success will not save from some degree of dishonor those who have voluntarily engaged to conduct it."

NEW YORK, March 20.—There was an appreciable stirring of speculative interest Monday, which was notably manifest in the railroad list, but which was mostly confined to a few stocks. Baltimore and Ohio preferred was the most conspicuous, with a rise of 3 points. Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio preferred, Atchison preferred and the Colorado and Southern stocks were all in good demand and gained over a point. Mobile and Ohio and Minneapolis and St. Louis preferred rose 2 points each. The bears made attempts to obstruct the rising tendency of prices.

They first made a raid upon the New York stocks on the ground that the tax levied under the new franchise tax law will be so considerable as to threaten their ability to pay dividends. Later an attack was made on the iron and steel group, based on the threatened strike of machinists. Neither of these was very effective in breaking up the strength manifest among the railroads. In fact the railroad list showed more hesitation in face of the violent rallies in the local traction groups than in the weakness of the specialties.

It is well understood that the vicissitudes of the New York stocks are nearly concerned with a rivalry approaching the character of a feud among some of the most powerful financial interests in the street, and the peaceful by-standers have been shown to be as likely to be injured in this conflict as the actual participants. The chief episode in this conflict Monday was the severe punishment inflicted upon the short interests in Third avenue. This stock touched 66½ in the early decline, and reached 85½ several times in the violent fluctuations of the last half hour of the trading. Price changes reached as much as 1½ points between sales. Metropolitan street railway recovered an early loss in sympathy.

New York exchange at Chicago jumped to 35 cents premium Monday, compared with a discount last week, and the proportion of absorption of funds by the New York sub-treasury is much smaller than for the same period last week. Factors for the relief of the money market are thus outlined, without regard to the operation of the new currency law.

Operations in the railroad bonds was active and strong Monday and well distributed. Total sales, par value, $3,795,000.

United States bonds scored a further sharp decline Monday, suggesting the liquidation of holdings by recent buyers, who are induced to take profits on the high prices.

United States 3's, old 4's and 5's declined 1 per cent, refunding 2's, when issued, ¾, and new 4's ¼ in the bid price.

Car Fare Ordinance Not Valid.

DETROIT, March 20.—Judge Swan, in the United States district court, rendered a decision which denies the validity of an ordinance passed some months since by the city council, requiring the street railway companies to reduce rates of fare to three cents. The court said there is nothing in the charter of the city which authorizes such an ordinance, and allows an injunction to strain the city from enforcing it.

Colonel Wallace Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The war department was informed of the death, at Fort Huachuca, A. T., of Colonel Robert B. Wallace (first lieutenant Second cavalry), commanding the Thirty-seventh volunteer infantry. He was severely wounded in the action at Calocan, Luzon, Feb. 10, 1899. He was at Fort Huachuca, A. T., on sick leave when he died.

KRUGER DISPIRITED.

Apparent if Rumor Is True of Speech He Made.

GAVE BOERS ONE MONTH LONGER.

This Was Before British Entered Bloemfontein—Report That Mafeking Is Relieved Said by Wyndham to Be Probably True.

LONDON, March 20.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Bloemfontein says:

"In a speech which he made here a few days before the British entered the town, President Kruger admitted that his men would be unable to keep in the field for another month."

LONDON, March 20.—4 a. m.—The war office has had no news up to this hour

confirming the report of the relief of Mafeking, but George Wyndham, parliamentary under secretary, for war, replying to a private inquiry in the lobby of the house of commons about midnight, smilingly said:

"I think it is all right." The Free Staters seemingly have not quite collapsed. They are in considerable force around Smithfield, although much despirited.

A British spy from Rouxville reports that Commandant Olivier and a commando are going to Kroonstadt. The agents he left behind are using desperate means to raise recruits, commandeering British Boers under penalty of death.

Kroonstadt, where the Boers are concentrating, is 137 miles from Bloemfontein. It is surrounded by a country of hills and jungles.

General Gatacre is now resting at Springfontein, preliminary to joining Lord Roberts. General Buller's hill work before Ladysmith has given him an experience which is about to be used in forcing the Biggarsberg range. It is believed that 25,000 of his 40,000 men are about to engage General Botha's force, and the next news of fighting will probably come from Natal.

The leaders of the Afrikaner band are circulating a petition in Cape Colony, asking the imperial government not to take away the independence of the Boers.

Thirty-two thousand additional troops for South Africa are at sea.

Showers Favors on Chinese Officials Who Are Most Obnoxious to the Foreigners.

PEKIN, March 20.—The ascendancy of the anti-foreign party is becoming more pronounced daily. The dowager empress appears unable to sufficiently reward the officials who exhibit marked hostility to everything not Chinese. Hen-Tung, probably the most bitterly anti-foreign official of the empire, has been decorated with the three-eved peacock feather, which had never been conferred for 80 years.

The notorious Li Peng Hing, who was dismissed from the governorship of Shantung, on German demand, has been advanced to the first rank, and the former governor, Yu Sen, of Shantung, has been appointed governor of the Shan-Si district, a snub to the powers interested, and likely to prejudice British interests in the province, as the powers believe his maladministration is the cause of the present state of affairs in Shantung.

While the railroads are passing through another car shortage the effect has not yet reached this place. This morning Freight Agent G. A. Wassman, of the local office, stated that the company now had cars for all who asked for them.

Reverend Andres, of the Ohioville Free Methodist church, is in the city, and, with Miss Orill, of the Chester Free Methodist church, will commence next week to hold a series of revival services in this place. A hall will be engaged for that purpose and meetings will be

A FREE TRADE SUBSTITUTE.

One Offered by Senator Beveridge for the Porto Rican Tariff Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Two measures of national importance, and many of slightly lesser interest, were passed by the senate. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying more than $25,000,000, was passed without debate. The measure providing for the appointment of a commission to adjudicate and settle claims of citizens of the United States growing out of the war with Spain was also passed without opposition.

For a brief time the Porto Rican government and tariff measure was under consideration. Mr. Foraker, in charge of the bill, submitted some committee amendments. A few of them were agreed to, but the important ones are still pending. A free trade amendment to the bill was offered by Senator Beveridge.

Senator Beveridge offered the following substitute for the tariff section of the Porto Rican bill:

"All articles coming into the United States from Porto Rico or going into Porto Rico from the United States shall be admitted free of duty, but this act shall not be construed as extending the constitution of the United States, or any part thereof, over Porto Rico, and it is hereby declared that the constitution of the United States is not extended over Porto Rico."

Thayer and Bryan.

When William Jennings Bryan first went to Nebraska, he was hired to take the stump against Thayer, who was running for governor, and said some hard things against the candidate. "Thayer was elected," Bryan is quoted as saying in the Chicago Times-Herald. "After he took the governor's chair he was called to be toastmaster at a banquet at which I was set down for a speech. I did not care to go to that banquet. I did not wish to meet the governor. I remembered all that I had said of him, and I felt cheap. But I went and sat there through the early proceedings quite uncomfortable.

"Finally it came time for the governor to call upon me. He rose from his seat, with programme before him, and slowly said, 'Mr. Bryan—Bryan.' Then he slowly turned his eyes upon me and addressed me, 'Do you speak or sing?'"

"That is all I ever heard from Governor Thayer as to what he thought of my campaign speeches against him."

BLOWN TO PIECES BY AN EXPLOSION

Full of Natural Gas This Morning.

HE OPENED A DOOR
TO LIGHT THE GAS JET

Blowing Him Several Feet.

REAR OF HOUSE WAS WRECKED

Doors Were Blown to Pieces and Swindells Had a Narrow Escape.

THE DAMAGE WILL BE HEAVY.

A natural gas explosion this morning nearly caused the death of William Swindells and his escape is almost miraculous. As it is he suffered several severe burns, but the damage to his residence will reach several hundred dollars.

Mr. Swindells resides on Pennsylvania avenue and uses Fort Pitt natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes. Last night between 8 and 8:30 o'clock the pressure went off and the gas in some parts of the house went out, and upstairs it could not be lighted at all, and when the family retired they were compelled to use lamp light. It was thought the jets in the lower part of the house had all been turned off, but it is the custom to leave a jet burning in the pantry.

This morning, as is his usual custom, Mr. Swindells arose about 20 minutes after 6 o'clock and went downstairs. He did not smell any gas and lit the kitchen stove and then lit a jet in the bath room. From there he went to the pantry and opened the door with a lighted match in his hand. Immediately there was an explosion and Mr. Swindells was blown several feet and his hair and clothes caught fire. He fought the fire out with his hands and by the time his wife arrived on the scene he had succeeded in extinguishing the flames. He is severely burned about the face and hands, and his arm, chest and head are bruised. Probably the only thing that saved Mr. Swindells from being burned to death is the fact that he wore a woolen sweater and it did not catch fire, but is simply scorched. The shirt sleeves that extended below the sweater were burned.

The damage to the house will amount to several hundred dollars. The rear portion of the house overlooking the river is badly wrecked. Where the first and second stories of the house join the partition is blown out fully 18 inches, while the veranda is blown loose and presents a dilapidated appearance. The plaster in the bath room is torn off in several places. The door leading to the pantry was blown into several pieces, and Mr. Swindells thinks some of the pieces hit him, which causes the soreness in his head, arm and chest. Another door, which leads to a short hallway from the kitchen to the pantry, was blown off, as was the door leading

When the explosion occurred Mrs. Swindells and the rest of the family were in bed and did not know what had happened. Mrs. Swindells supposed a bed in which her son sleeps downstairs had broken down and she went into his room, but he told her the noise came from downstairs. She went to the kitchen at once and found Mr. Swindells sitting on a chair. She asked him if he was hurt, and he replied that "thank God he was not killed." A physician was sent for and dressed the injured man's wounds and he is resting as easily today as could be expected.

The only explanation that can be given for the explosion is that the jet in the pantry was left burning when the family had retired. During the night it went out and later the pressure came on. The door to the pantry was tightly closed and all the escaping gas was kept in the one room or the volume of the explosion would not have been so heavy. John Swindells, a young son, was the last person in the pantry last night, and he stated that he did not touch the gas.

Mr. Swindells had not seen the havoc caused by the explosion and for that reason could not fix any estimate of the amount of his loss, and was not prepared to say whether he would enter a suit for damages against the company.

CHIEF OFFICERS HERE.

They Held a Conference With General Manager T. F. Anderson.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Baird, of Akron, president of the American Clay Manufacturing company; Thomas D. Brown, of New Brighton, secretary; R. M. Francey and W. B. Goucher, of Toronto, directors of the new company, were in the city the guests of T. F. Anderson, of the East End. Later in the day the gentlemen held a conference with Mr. Anderson in his office in the First National bank building. They returned to their homes last evening.

TRENTVALE STREET.

The Work of Finishing the Grading of the Street Will be Completed Soon.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart will commence work finishing the grading of Trentvale street just as soon as possible and hopes to get started no later than April 1. It will take about two weeks to complete the work. How soon the road will be paved will be determined when it is ascertained how much money has been expended in grading the road. The council has $6,000 to expend on the road and it is not known how much can be collected by assessment.

Taylor's Quickness.

Ashtabula Sentinel.

Ohio men are great people, that is a good many of them are. But after we read how Robert W. Taylor, of Columbiana county, took the lead in the debate which laid out Roberts, made us so proud of Ohio, that we wanted to rub against a post and purr. His quickness in debate was shown during the discussion of the resolution on Roberts.

Coming Back.

A. G. Minehart has decided to move back to this city from Youngstown. He will arrive here about April 1 and expects to engage in business in this city.

THE SHORTAGE OF KILNHANDS

Brotherhood Committee Will Make
a Report This Week and the Demand Will be Supplied.

SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS

The Plans For the Cannonsburg
Pottery Will Be Completed
Next Week.

F. I. SIMMERS HAS A NEW JOB.

The question of getting more kiln hands for the potteries has been left in the hands of a committee of the Brotherhood and they will make a report this week. The committee is endeavoring to formulate a plan whereby all the potteries will have enough men and the demand will be fully met. It is thought the plan of the committee will be satisfactory to all parties, but what arrangements they will make will not be given out until after they make a report to the Brotherhood.

Dishmakers' local, No. 29, will meet Thursday night and transact routine business. This local is only about 18 months old, but they now have about 48 members, including in that number all the dishmakers in the city except three.

Frank I. Simmers, who has been on the road for the National Glass company for some time, will resign his position April 1 to accept a position in the office of the East Liverpool pottery.

NO MORE.

Streets Won't Be Washed at Night By
the Street Force, As It Is Not Necessary.

There will be no more washing of the streets at night, and if they are flushed it will be done in the day time. President Peach, of council, says it is not necessary to have men work all night washing streets in a town the size of East Liverpool, and it is not right to ask them to do it for $1.50 per night. He don't think that is sufficient money for the amount of work the men do, and for that reason they will not be asked to work any more at night. He says it is all right for cities to have the streets washed at night, but in a city the size of this one the work can be done in the day time without seriously interfering with any one.

NOT THE MAN.

Four Officers Prepared to Make a Capture at the Grand
Last Night.

Last night the police thought they were on the trail of George Heckathorne and went to the opera house prepared to capture their man. His girl was seen in the gallery and four officers went to the theater prepared to make sure of him. Knowing the character of Heckathorne they were armed to the teeth, and one of the officers pulled his revolver and handcuffs in the stairway to see that they were all right. The advance agent of the show was informed that Heckathorne was a dangerous man and was liable to jump over the gallery if he knew the officers were after him, so they would have to do their work quietly. After every detail for the capture had been arranged it was discovered that the man in the gallery was not Heckathorne.

DIED AT THE INFIRMARY.

Two Aged Women Pass Away at the County Home Yesterday Afternoon.

Lisbon, March 20.—(Special.)—Catherine Phillips, 66 years old, died at the county infirmary yesterday. She had been at the institution 21 years and was formerly a resident of Perry township.

Rachael Skelton, of Hanoverton, also died at the infirmary yesterday afternoon.

WELLSVILLE MINISTERS.

Plan to Hold a Union Evangelistic Meeting in May or June.

The members of the Wellsville Ministerial Association held a meeting at the home of Rev. Earl D. Holtz, D. D., and made plans for holding a union revival meeting in that city sometime late in May or early in June. It is expected that the meeting will continue for at least two weeks. There will be a large chorus to assist the meetings.

NO ACTION.

Not Enough Members of the Association Present to Transact Business.

Several members of the hospital association met last night at the Young Men's Christian Association parlors, but there wasn't enough present to do business. An attempt will be made to hold a meeting Friday night. The purpose of the meeting is to take some action toward commencing the erection of a hospital.

Saturday Night.

The Printing Pressmen's union will meet in Pittsburg next Saturday night. Two members from this city will be initiated.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

EAST END.

SOUTH SIDE.

The East Liverpool & Wellsville Street Railway company have made several attempts to change the route to East End at the power house, but so far each effort has failed. To change the route, according to the plans suggested by council, the company will be compelled to run their cars through the power house, and at present that is as far as they can go. Eighteen inches east of the power house wall is a tract of land owned by James Noah, of East End, 166 feet by 125. Mr. Noah stated yesterday that he was ready to sell the ground for $3,500. The street railway company has offered him $3,300. The company has been after the ground for over a year and parties not connected with the company have also made him offers, but none over $3,300. There is just a difference of $200, but as each side is set on its price the prospects for a deal are not very bright.

R. Strauss, of Salineville, spent yesterday in East End, the guest of Robert Foutts, of Mulberry street.

A daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Althers is ill with a severe cold.

Dr. W. C. Mowen, of Mulberry street, is threatened with an attack of the grip.

The teachers at the Second Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a meeting in the church Friday evening for the purpose of arranging plans for work during the spring.

Clement Lemon, who was hurt by a fall at the Crockery City brewery, was able to sit up Sunday for the first time. His entire recovery is now only a matter of a short time.

E. H. Laughlin, of Pittsburg, was in the suburb yesterday visiting his parents.

Mrs. T. F. Anderson, of Pennsylvania avenue, who has been under the care of a physician for the last week, is improving.

The making of clay at the new National pottery was begun yesterday, and by the end of the week the management expect to have several clay workers busy.

Yesterday T. F. Anderson, manager of the K. T. & A. sewer pipe plant, under the control of the American Clay Manufacturing company, began the invoicing of stock. This work was done when C. A. Smith purchased the plant and when he sold another invoice had to be made. It will take several days to complete the work.

During Saturday and yesterday the people residing in the East End, who subscribed for the bonus to secure the new National pottery, received notices to pay up, and while some did so, most of the money is still outstanding and will have to be collected. The largest subscription was $100 from a prominent resident of Helana.

A valuable horse owned by Joseph Brunson died yesterday morning. This is the second he has lost within a month.

The case of G. W. Allison, of East Liverpool, against Benjamin Evans and William Plotts was heard before Justice Wash. Johnson yesterday afternoon in the Allison store. The suit was to recover some land, which Allison claims is being unlawfully held.

A car load of lathes for the new houses to be erected by C. A. Smith were received yesterday.

The car that jumped the track at the mill siding has been replaced on the track. The several cars of machinery that were on the siding awaiting the removal of the obstruction have been pushed into the mill and are now being unloaded.

There will be a public sale at the residence of Sarah Stewart one week from today.

Justice Wash. Johnson said yesterday it was not the most pleasant job in the world acting as a court house on wheels. He had in one of his overcoat pockets a bottle of ink, pens and pencils in another, transcripts in another and blank affidavits and warrants in a fourth. He said it seldom happened that a case was filed while he was at his office.

W. C. Allison yesterday was given judgment against John O'Brien by Justice Johnson for $2.51 for goods sold and delivered. An attachment was issued on the Panhandle to obtain some money O'Brien claims due, and the warrant given to Constable Allison.

Another case heard by Justice Johnson was that of Martin Herrington against O'Brien for $8.30, claimed due on a bill of groceries. The papers were given to Constable Allison, returnable Friday. Herrington claims O'Brien is now a resident of Steubenville.

Eph. Johnson, of Chester, left this morning for a week's stay up the Monongahela river doing some work for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He was accompanied by Engineer McConnell, who has charge of the construction of the extension of the Cumberland branch.

Again old car No. 2 has been placed on the Chester Street railway. The car has been repaired and is in fairly good condition.

LOWER THE PEGS.

Council some time ago ordered and had all street water and gas boxes put down to grade in order that all possibility of a damage suit might be avoided. On several streets in the city there is another thing almost as dangerous, and that is the pegs in the sidewalks, left there for some unaccountable purpose unless it is for people to stumble over. Along Sixth street they are a few inches above the grade, and every day somebody stumbles over them. An attorney in speaking of the matter says the city would certainly be liable for damage if any person got hurt because of the pegs.

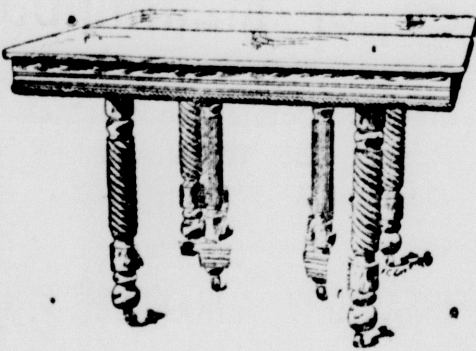

—Jack Harris spent last evening in the city and this morning left for Pittsburg, and from there he will go to Cleveland this afternoon.

At the Grand Tonight.

Cameron Clemens and his excellent company opened a week's engagement at the Grand opera house last evening in the sensational melodrama, "Land of the Cajuns." A big feature with this company is the Glee Lady orchestra, an organization of talented lady musicians who render delightful vocal and instrumental selections during the intermissions. Speaking of the company the Yonkers (N. Y.) Herald says: "Last night Cameron Clemens and his company opened a week's engagement in Music hall, and judging from first impressions it will be a most successful one. Mr. Clemens is well remembered from former visits here, and is a great favorite with Yonkers theater goers." Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Tonight the company will present Oliver Doud Byon's famous scenic melodrama, "The Inside Track," and tomorrow afternoon an elaborate production of the famous drama, "East Lynne."

"The Christian."

Hall Caine's tremendously successful play, "The Christian," dramatized from his own novel of the same name, will be presented for the first time in this city on Thursday, April 19, at the Grand. "The Christian," as a play differs somewhat from the story, but only to the extent necessary to meet dramatic requirements. Glory Quayle appears as presented in the book. In the story John Storm is a controversial character, a personage whose sombre attributes as described by the author present him in the light of a religious fanatic. Holding in mind that people go to the theater for amusement and not to be preached at from behind the footlight, Mr. Caine has relieved the stage John Storm of his pronounced religious characteristics, and presents him as a noble, self-sacrificing man, the love existing between Glory Quayle and Storm forming the central motive of the dramatic story. Yet the changes which have been made in the character of Storm, and by the general construction of the play itself, will not, it is said, disappoint the readers of the book, who go to the theater to see the story and its characters translated to the stage.

What He Prayed For.

A story is told of two worthy New England deacons, between whom a bitter feud had long existed concerning some contested point. Neither would give in, and the matter threatened to be handed down to the next generation, when one day Deacon Smith appeared before his enemy and solemnly said:

"Brother Jones, it is a shame that this quarrel of ours should bring scandal upon the church. I have prayed earnestly for guidance in the matter and have come to the conclusion that you must give in, for I cannot!"

Suspicious Aroused.

Smith—What's wrong, old man? You look worried.

Jones—I am. You know I had my life insured last week?

Smith—Yes, but what has that got to do with it?

LAWYER IN POLITICS HE IS A SPLENDID MAN

He Has Gathered Up the Best Short Sketch of Hon. C. C. Baker's Life.

IS NOW AFTER THE BALANCE WOULD BE RIGHT KIND OF MAN

Great Danger to the Public Welfare Unless a Halt Is Called--A Few Pertinent Points That It Would Be Well For the Voters to Consider Before They Cast Their Ballots.

Did it ever occur to you that the population of the United States at the present time is about seventy millions, and that of this seventy millions only about fifty thousand are lawyers, that is one lawyer to every fourteen hundred of the people.

On the other hand did you ever stop to think of the great number of lawyers who are holding office as compared with the total population. National, state and county, legislative, executive and judicial. You will find a great proportion, and all the best offices filled by lawyers.

They make your laws, they execute your laws and they judge your laws.

The only thing you can do is to find fault with the laws, and when it comes to a nomination or election you are told that the only person who is competent to represent you in the office to be filled is the "Wind Jammer" lawyer, who is always a candidate, because he can make a speech.

They have made us believe that a certain part of the offices can be filled by lawyers only, and they are trying hard to create the belief that the balance must be filled in the same way; only one year ago we had a lawyer candidate for the office of sheriff of this county, who tried hard to convince the people that the sheriff's office could be managed properly by no one but a lawyer.

What do you think of this, Mr. Merchant, Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Mechanic, Mr. Laborer and Mr. Citizen generally? Are we to relinquish our rights to the scheming lawyer politician because he can make a speech?

Are honesty, industry and ability to count for nothing, and are all the lawyers to fill all the offices because they can make a speech?

Using this same argument it will not be long until they tell you the offices of mayor, councilmen, clerk, treasurer, assessor, constable, etc., must be filled by lawyers, because they can make a speech.

Must we turn over the entire government of the nation, state, county and township to the lawyer, because he can make a speech, without reference to his reputation for truth, honesty, industry and ability?

Do you think that this great country of ours was built up and is maintained by wind, or do you think that that which is best about our country has been the result of careful, painstaking effort, business ability, honesty and good judgment?

J. K. BROTHERS AND FAMILY.

To Represent the District In Congress and Would Serve His Constituents Well--He Served Three Years During the Rebellion, With Honor to Himself and Country, and Was Auditor of This County For Two Terms.

A representative of this paper had the pleasure of meeting Hon. Charles C. Baker, of Alliance, when he was in this city a day or so ago. At this time it is not necessary to repeat that Mr. Baker is desirous of filling Hon. R. W. Taylor's seat in congress. This is well known throughout the Eighteenth congressional district of Ohio. However, there are many points of interest in Mr. Baker's life that are not known to all persons.

Charles C. Baker was born of humble but industrious parents in Pennsylvania. When he was 10 years old his father, John Baker, moved his family to Ohio. They settled in Unity township, this county. There the subject of this brief sketch labored and grew toward robust manhood until he was 18 years old.

At that time the horrors of the greatest war of the century, if not of all time, launched themselves in an effort to disrupt the glorious union. Though a boy then Mr. Baker enlisted with Co. C., Sixth Ohio cavalry. For three years he fought for all that the country now holds dear. After the war he returned to peaceful pursuits on the farm. That work claimed his attention until 1869 when he came to Salem and was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue by the late Jesse Duck, known to all Salem citizens. Later Mr. Baker associated with John R. Vernon in the publication of the Journal. These varied employments gave him that best of all schooling, a liberal, general education, and admirably fitted him for his enviable public career to follow later.

In 1880 this farmer, printer and master of politics was elected auditor of Columbiana county on the Republican ticket. He served two terms in this office with honor to himself and credit to the county. As auditor he established a precedent for plain, business-like administration. The record he made there cannot be surpassed if equalled.

After leaving the office Mr. Baker located in Alliance as contracting agent of the Penn Bridge Co., of Beaver Falls, Pa. This work has brought him in contact with state, municipal and county officials of various states. This has served to broaden and develop the man, until today he stands as a representative American citizen in whom the nation may find one of her strongest supporters. His extensive experiences have brought success to himself, as well as to those whom he has represented.

In Alliance and Stark county Mr. Baker has had honor thrust upon him by being elected a member of the board of education, water works trustee and president of the Alliance Bank Co. He was also appointed trustee of the construction of the magnificent court house at Canton.

All this has fitted Mr. Baker for higher public service, entitle him to it and insure a faithful, representative performance of duties should he be fortunate enough to secure the seat in the national house to which he now aspires.

Mr. Baker is a personal friend of President McKinley, as well as a friend of all with whom he has come in contact during his years of public and private life. Possibly the briefest summing up of the man is contained in these words: he is ever mindful of his friends. Is there anything higher or better to be striven for?

WHEELING STOGIES.

Representative Here to Warn Dealers of the Permanent Injunction.

F. D. Thomas, representing the National Stogie Makers' union and the Wheeling stogie manufacturers, arrived in town yesterday for the purpose of warning the retail dealers that any person selling tobies manufactured elsewhere than in the city of Wheeling as "Wheeling" tobies would be liable to prosecution, and a committee on injunction from both the stogie makers' union and the manufacturers will see that legal steps are at once taken against the violators who persist after being warned. The injunction handed down by the United States court of the district of Massachusetts and made perpetual is as follows:

"We, therefore, enjoin and command, you shall not directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale, any stogies in boxes or packages bearing the word "Wheeling," except only stogies actually manufactured in the city of Wheeling, in the state of West Virginia, nor directly or indirectly sell or deliver to any persons who ask for and who desire to purchase "Wheeling stogies" any article or stogies other than the genuine Wheeling stogies, manufactured and made in the city of Wheeling."

THE WRONG COAT.

The Electric Current Struck and Astonished His Spinal Column.

A young gentleman of East Liverpool had occasion to visit a snug home residence in our city yesterday. He divorced himself from his overcoat, hung the garment in the hallway and entered the parlor, where he indulged in pleasing conversation for a short time. Duty calling him to another point, his host picked up an overcoat and assisted the young man partially into the same, when the latter exclaimed:

Investigation developed the fact that an expert electrician was visiting a handsome young damsel in the same homestead, and that his coat had in some manner become fully charged with the electric current. It is suggested that the young lady in question is a powerful magnet.

RAYMAN MAKES FORMAL REPORT

Concerning the Collection of the Assessments in the Public Schools.

Rev. W. R. Denny's Request for Collection For Children's Society Rejected

AT SCHOOL BOARD LAST NIGHT.

The board of education met in the directors' room at the Central building last evening. Four members were present, Messrs. Smith, Norris and Williams being absent.

A letter from Edwin Roberts, thanking the board for the resolution of sympathy on the death of his wife passed at the last meeting, was received.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman read the following:

"To the Honorable Board of Education: "GENTLEMEN—I hereby submit a report of the investigation made concerning the collections taken in schools for the purpose of paying piano rent. There seems to have been some misunderstanding.

"It is found that the names were not placed upon the boards, together with the amounts due.

"It is found that pupils were not sent home and told to remain at home until the amount was paid

"It is found, however, that several children were detained a few minutes after school for consultation about the payment of this amount and in one case a pupil was sent home for a written statement from the parent.

"Further, it has been ordered that no collections of any kind whatever shall be taken without the consent of the board of education.

"Respectfully submitted,

"R. E. RAYMAN,

"Superintendent of Schools.

The monthly report of Superintendent Rayman presented to the board was as follows: New enrollment, males 25, females 16; entire enrollment, males 1523, females 1536; monthly enrollment, males 1236, females 1182; average daily attendance, males 941, females 905; per cent attendance, males 89, females 89; promoted 18, (last month there were no promotions); demoted, none; pupils absent, males 837, females 844; pupils withdrawn, males 115, females 97; cases of tardiness, males 71, females 84; cases of truancy, males 29, females 2; corporal punishment, 56; teachers absent, 4 days; visits by patrons, males 12, females 63; visits by board, 8; cases of sickness, males 448, females 503, (last month there were 400 males and 402 females reported ill); visits by superintendent, 89; roll of honor, males 367, females 322.

Rev. W. R. M. Denny, representing the Children's Home society of Ohio, made a statement to the board of the methods and objects of the society, and

The door that Dante saw had this inscription over it: "Despair of hope, all ye who enter here." When man despairs of hope he drains the very dregs of despair.

There are certain forms of disease to which medical ignorance and popular superstition have given the title of "Hopeless." That very fact handicaps the sufferers from such diseases by robbing them of the courage to try to regain health. This is particularly true of lung diseases. As soon as disease fastens on the lungs, the victim sits down, makes his will, and awaits his fate. He wouldn't act that way if he were bitten by a tarantula or a rattlesnake. He'd fight then for his life. But he is under the influence of the ignorant and superstitious, that write "Despair of hope" over the door of such diseases as by neglect or unskillful treatment may end fatally in consumption.

What! Can there be hope for the sufferer with the constant cough, flushed face, burdened breathing and emaciated body? The record says "yes." Ninety-eight out of every hundred cases in which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been used have been permanently cured. "Golden Medical Discovery" positively cures weak lungs, bronchitis, obstinate lingering cough, bleeding of the lungs and kindred ailments, which, if neglected, find a fatal ending in consumption. It contains no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant.

"Your medicine is the best I have ever taken," writes Mrs. Jennie Longman of Vanburen, Kakaskia Co., Mich. "Last spring I had a bad cough; got so bad I had to be in bed all the time. My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough stopped and I have since had no signs of its returning."

asked permission to take up a collection in the public schools. Following his remarks Clerk Hill presented the following resolution:

"The board regrets that its rules forbid the taking up of collections for any purpose in buildings under its control, and, under the circumstances, it is impossible to grant Mr. Denny's request."

"Vote for C. C. Baker for congress."

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many East Liverpool People.

It's a common error. To plaster the aching back. To rub with liniment rheumatic joints when the trouble comes from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills and are endorsed by East Liverpool citizens.

Mr. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, says:—"During three years I had attacks of dull steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long, and I often had headaches, dizziness, and in the morning great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at the W. & W. pharmacy to be more suitable for my complaint than anything that I had ever tried.

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

A good deal of the Boer sympathy

Kansas is to have a big exposition.
Well, Kansas deserves a show now
she has lopped off her wind and whiskers.

Pop Anson of ball fame has been
mentioned for alderman in Chicago.
Adrian should have no trouble in
making a home run.

And now the English say the refusal of the Irish to wear the green,
now that it has become lawful, is an-
the race.

TAKE IT HOME.

Think of it, man, and act wisely
and well. Your dear ones at home,
father, mother, wife or little ones,
kindness. Don't toll all day at workshops, bench, pottery, or whatever occupation you may be engaged in,
and then give your earnings to the
saloon keeper, receiving in return
from him headaches, sorrow, suffering, penury and perdition. Exercise
common sense, man, and let the saloon keeper and his bartenders go to work like you do, and earn an honest
and honorable living. Turn in, man,
and assist in driving out of this
grand nation the unAmerican saloon.
Act today, man, and God will bless

you for every right step you take,
from a pure motive.

A prominent business man asserts
that drunkenness is decidedly on the increase in East Liverpool. And the assertion is made by a second business man that the saloonkeepers are becoming much more bold in their defiance of law and of decency, and
that selling after hours and on Sunday have become common features
in many of the dives and hell holes
of the city. And a third business man states that the better class of
citizens are becoming thoroughly
aroused and indignant on account of
the number of insolent drunken men
to be seen daily and nightly on our streets. Is it not high time to call a halt? Should not Mayor Bough issue orders hat his roundsmen shall exercise greater vigilance in bringing these offenders and outlaws to justice? The Liquor league counted itself as smart and cunning in its purchase of votes and the defeat of the Clark bill. May it not be that the "devil has deserted his own," and that the righteous indignation of an outraged public opinion
will result in the exclusion of the saloon from the municipality instead

Taylor All Conceded in
His Favor.

The candidacy of Judge Isaac H.
Taylor for renomination to the judge-
ship of the court of common pleas of
this district is meeting with general
favor and gives proof of the popularity of the judge, not only in Carroll
county, but throughout the district.
His fitness for the position is conceded by all who know him. His reputation for ability, integrity and fairness has been well established. During his entire tenure of office not even
the faintest suspicion has been enter-
sonal likes or dislikes to influence his judgment in any case ever brought
before him. His treatment of attorneys has been uniformly courteous.
Dignified in deportment, clear in his exposition of law and careful in his rulings he has won the esteem of
some of Ohio's most eminent prac-
lawyer, Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland,
who gives it as his opinion that Isaac
H. Taylor is one of the most profound
and learned judges now occupying the
bench in the state.

Located as Judge Taylor is in Carroll county, the county from which
the vacancy in the judgeship occurs, he is the logical candidate. From the flattering notices which have appeared in the press throughout the district concerning his candidacy and
the warm words of approval heard
in support of it, it would seem that
his renomination is a foregone conclusion. This is as it should be. If,
when the judicial convention assem-
bles to make a nomination Judge Taylor should be chosen as his successor
by acclamation the district would
honor itself more than it would honor
the man who has presided over its

OTHER POLICE COURT CASES.

Mayor Bough had a good day yesterday and the result of his labor
added a lot of money to the city
treasury.

The first party to face the mayor
was Michael O'Malley, who was charged with keeping his saloon open
on Sunday. He acknowledged that
Sunday. The mayor fined him $50 and
costs, and he enriched the city coffers
just $54.60.

Chalmer McClurg was the next man
up. He said he was in the saloon
of O'Malley on Sunday and had drank
there. He paid $10.60.

Isaac Eoff was in the same boat as McClurg, and it cost him the same amount, $10.60.

Amos Reed had no difficulty in proving that he was a cook at O'Malley's and was attending to his duties when
the raid took place. He was dismissed.

William McKeever and John Haley
said they didn't drink in the place,
and the officers hadn't seen them
drink. While this didn't excuse them,
the testimony surrounding their case
was such that the mayor thought he
was justified in dismissing them.

Ed. R. Frederick, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Martha J. Smith, failed to put in an appearance last night and the $10 he put up for his appearance was declared forfeited.

Michael Malone, who was arrested
Sunday night by Officer Mahony for giving a concert on Market street,
called on the mayor last night and
paid $9.60 for his song.

Thomas Connors, the Chester man
arrested Saturday night for being
him $7.60.

Ernest Kretshmer succeeded in getting the amount of his fine yesterday afternoon and was released. The jail
is now empty.

There was one lodger in the city
jail last night.

The mayor held court until after 9 o'clock last night, but it was a paying

Indignation at Lisbon.

(Communicated.)

Lisbon, March 20.—There is a strong feeling of indignation here
among the friends of the various candidates at last Saturday's nomination against Robert W.
Taylor. There were 30 candidates at Saturday's nomination, all home candidates and neighbors of Mr. Tay-
ler. He was in the county, yet did not take interest enough in any of
them to come home and cast his ballot. They are now asking: "What can Mr. Tayler expect when he treats his home people in this way?" The past few days has seen some wonderful changes. Look out for a landslide
next Saturday.

What General Grosvenor Says About
It—How Tayler Fought
the Battle.

Repository.)

At the congressional dinner, previously mentioned, Speaker Henderson spoke of General Grosvenor as
"the most universally used and useful man in the majority," and none
sought to win from the Athens seer
and political prophet the coveted
honor: "I thought the first time Tayler spoke in the house that he made a mess of it," says the general.
"He took the floor in behalf of a Democrat in an election case and defended a principle of law that I considered ill founded. I thought the break
would be the death of him politically,
but he defended his position so adroitly and with such consummate skill
from the attacks of his opponents in
the committee that he won the applause and approbation of all.

Framing the Dingley Bill.

"Then when it came to the framing
of the so-called Dingley bill he became much in evidence. It seemed
every article affected by the schedule
interested his constituents. I think
no one who served on the committee
will forget his fight for the pottery
schedule and his claims were adopted.
He fought the battle for his East Liverpool constituents and finally won.
Then he began a war in behalf of
a great Canton industry and won a victory. Steel and iron and all sorts of manufactured products came under
his protection and none escaped his notice. Even the chicle of chewing gum came in for his defense. With an due respect for those who have departed from our earthly presence,
I believe Robert Tayler had more to do with the successful framing of the Dingley tariff bill as it went to the senate in so far as it pertained to the interests of the industries of his district than any other man in our party.
What he has done recently each daily paper records and certainly there is not a man of morality, or a mother,
or wife, but is

Proud of His Defense

of the American fireside, the family
circle, the sacred foundation of liberty
and its incarnation, the American nation. Tayler is a leader among leaders—a most valuable colleague and a credit to our great state. When Ohio
gets to sending more men like him
to congress and to keeping them
there, our people will receive the benefit of wiser and more extended
legislation."

Cabs Not Admitted.

Americans visiting London, for the first time are more than likely to hail
a hansom the day they arrive and start promptly to see the row. Half the
books, stories, newspaper articles, etc.,
treating of English life make prominent mention of this the smartest driveway in the world. London society circles largely about Hyde park,
and naturally enough tourists regard
it as a good starting place from which
to study British manners and peoples.

Imagine, then, the indignation and
the disgust of a pair of pretty girls, accustomed to traverse home drives in
any fashion they like, warned back
from Hyde park entrance by a six foot arm of the law. No tips, no
remonstrance, no pleading, has the slightest effect upon the stern "bobby,"
who simply orders cabby to depart
and tells his fares to get a more cor-
part in the row parade.

It is livery or nothing, and if the visitor continues to long for a glimpse of the Hyde park show she must have boots and breeches to drive her, there-
by having at least the semblance of a private establishment. No admittance
cab.—Boston Globe.

CUMMINGS IS STILL LIVING

Was Removed to More Comfortable Quarters Last Evening

BUT HE CANNOT LIVE LONG

His Treatment Arouses Much Indignation and Leads to Action.

There was much talk on the South-side yesterday over the terrible deed committed Sunday, but none equalled that heard about the manner in which the Hancock county authorities allowed John Cummings to remain in the small shanty, where he had been placed by G. A. Arner and Garrett Mercer. It is admitted by all that Cummings was likely to die at any time, but all also agree that he should have had better treatment. William A. Gardner, when he saw the man lying in the shanty, said: "This is nothing short of inhumanity. The idea of the people of Chester and even of Hancock county permitting this man to lie in that place without medical attention as long as they did is revolting."

Dr. F. M. Laughlin was seen in his office this morning and made the following statement about the condition of Cummings:

"When I was called to the South-side Sunday I did not know how badly the man had been injured. When I saw him in the little shanty and the nature of his surroundings I knew it was no place for a man in the condition that Cummings was. I suggested to the people of Chester to collect a small amount of money and send the man to a Pittsburg hospital, but this was not done. I have made a thorough examination of the case and read the best works treating on cases of that character. The people of Chester think that a great many things should have been done for the man, but I believe they did not know the gravity of the case."

When Dr. Laughlin was asked why an operation was not performed he replied: "No operation is indicated until the man has reacted from all concussion. If after several days he has reacted from the effects of the concussion, and still remains unconscious, you know then that it is due to blood clots on the brain, or pressure due to broken pieces of bone from the inner table of the skull. The question is then whether an operation would benefit his condition. The operation, if one should be performed, should be in no place other than a hospital and under the most skilled surgeons. The operation is one of the most delicate known in surgery."

When Constable R. E. Allison placed John Purvis in the county jail at New Cumberland Sunday evening he made a charge of assault and battery against him. He will remain in jail until next week, when he will be given a hearing. While going to Cumberland Allison attempted to get Purvis to talk, but he would not. He told the officer he would think the matter over for a few days before he would make a statement.

Prosecutor McKenzie, of New Cumberland, was in Chester yesterday afternoon investigating the trouble, but he learned nothing but what had been published last evening. He returned to his home last night and will return to Chester tomorrow morning.

Samuel A. Allison, overseer of the poor of Grant district, took charge of Cummings yesterday afternoon. He rented a room in the Thompson block, which was formerly occupied by the Russell family. At 5 o'clock last evening Cummings was removed from the little shanty where he had been since Sunday morning to this room.

It was in this room Dr. Laughlin visited him last evening and made an examination. At a late hour this afternoon Cummings was sinking rapidly, and those about him did not expect him to live until night.

ONE CHANCE IN A HUNDRED.

Doctors Hobbs and Laughlin Will Perform an Operation This Afternoon.

Drs. W. A. Hobbs and F. M. Laughlin will perform an operation upon Cummings this afternoon. They say there is one chance in a hundred that the man's life can be saved. The overseers of Grant district authorized the engagement of the surgeons, but it is understood that C. A. Smith, of this city, will bear the expenses.

A Bad Man to Interrupt.

"W'en Moses tell de sun ter stan' still"—began the old deacon.
"Dat warn't Moses," interjected a brother in the amen corner; "dat wuz Joshua!"

"Ez I said," continued the deacon, "w'en Joshua tell de sun"—

The deacon's patience was exhausted. He folded his brass rimmed spectacles, laid them carefully on the table before him, walked over to the amen corner, took the objecting brother by both arms from behind and, with the swish of a cyclone, swept him forward toward the door, landing him precipitately in outer darkness.

"Ez I wuz sayin fob dis little incident occurred," he continued, "w'en Moses tole Joshua ter tell de sun ter stan' still!"

Some of the older, learned brethren moved uneasily in their seats. They looked as if they wanted to correct him, but they did not. They let it go at that. —Atlanta Constitution.

Character in the Hair.

If your hair is fine, it denotes gentle birth. If the ends cling together, it is a sign of great intellectuality, and a tendency to curl shows inherent grace and a poetic nature.

These are some of the things set forth by the science of hair reading, yet undeveloped, but likely to "give us away" in a manner often more accurate than pleasing.

This science tells us, too, that the person with straight hair has a firm, positive and practical disposition. Color shows the temperament. For instance, it is well to watch out for the person with black, lusterless hair. He's apt to be treacherous and jealous. The lighter the hair the more sensitive and "touchy" its owner. Brown hair belongs to him who has common sense, good judgment and reason in high degree, which would indicate that humanity isn't even half bad. Red hair shows honesty and cleverness.

COMPANY NOW BEING FORMED

The Capital Stock Will Be $60,000 and the Building Will Be Modern.

WILL BE GROUND FLOOR.

The fact that a new opera house is to be built in the city was given to the public exclusively by the News Review several weeks ago, and the parties who have the matter in charge have at last succeeded in negotiations on the site and subscriptions for the stock are now being taken.

The site consists of the Hall, Smith and Cannon properties, lying on the north side of Sixth street, a short distance from the Diamond. The theater will be located in the rear of the lot, will be ground floor 70x115 feet, with a 20-foot entrance from Sixth street. The front of the property will be used for business blocks. The company will be capitalized at $60,000 and every effort will be made to have the opera house ready for the season of 1900-01.

It is proposed to make the theater thoroughly up-to-date with all modern improvements, and when completed the house will be the finest in this section of the state.

"Years ago," said a Maine man, "I was standing beside a gun at a state muster at Augusta when a salute to the governor, who had just come on the field, was being fired. The cannon used was of the old fashioned kind, and it was prematurely discharged, with the result that the index finger of the right hand of the man ramming the load home was blown off. The shock, together with the lodgment of flying particles of powder, had the effect of driving the blood back from the wound, during which fragment of time the injured man calmly examined his mangled hand, but when the blood did come back it came with a rush and fairly bubbled out in a torrent. The man's calmness left him as if by magic at the sight of the blood, and, with a loud scream, he keeled over in a dead faint."

"They used to tell a story of two men who were working on opposite sides of a buzzsaw. The attention of one becoming momentarily distracted, he ran his finger against the saw, and the severed piece dropped on the other side, where his partner was working. That worthy picked it up and, with the casual remark, 'Bill, you've dropped something,' handed it back to its owner. 'Bill didn't faint, but it is only owing to the superior burst of speed developed by his partner that he is not doing time for homicide.'—New York Tribune.

The Right of the House of Representatives to Ignore Credentials Is Now Established

Regarding the prominent part taken by Congressman R. W. Tayler in the Roberts case, and the precedent established that the house has the right to discard credentials and deny what has been considered the malfeasance right to be sworn in, the Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer has the following:

"The wonder of it all is the manner in which Tayler, of Ohio, whipped them into line.

"The denial to Roberts of the right to be sworn in is the personal triumph of Tayler. By what arts, what conjuration and what mighty magic he won them over will ever remain a mystery, save as they exist in the personal qualities of Tayler himself. Why, the majority of Republicans at first blush repelled the idea of denying the right to be sworn in. There are interviews galore on the subject. Cannon declared that a man would make himself ridiculous who sought to brush aside a right so inalienable. Daltzell said that the right to be sworn in upon proper credentials was undeniable. Scores spoke along the same line, but you see, they had not yet heard from Tayler.

"When Tayler had finished a new authority in the house procedure had been established and the fact that it is likely to breed chaos in the future does not detract but rather adds to the persuasive eloquence of the member from Lisbon. For charmed he ever so wisely and he convinced them against their wills. I do not speak so much of those who felt the party lash, but of the others who came at the golden voice of the magician.

"Tayler certainly had the arrogance of conviction with him to which was supplemented the knowledge of a sufficient precedent. No breezes could blow that would make him sway. Tayler made a pronounced hit.

Force of Habit.

In 1827 just after Dan Dougherty, the Irish pugilist, fought his famous fight with Jew Belcher, the English fighter, on the curragh of Kildare, near Dublin he became involved in a controversy with an unknown. The latter was not a pugilist, and, not wishing to take any advantage of his opponent, Dougherty consented to fight him with pistols. The two met by appointment but their seconds, unknown to them, extracted the balls from the pistols and substituted blank cartridges. By the terms of the agreement between the principals Dougherty's opponent was to have the first shot. The natural instinct prevailed even on the dueling ground, and as the fighter's opponent raised his arm to fire Dougherty elevated his right arm, as if to ward off a blow, evidently intending to stop the bullet from hitting him in the face. After this who can say that fighters are not degenerate game men?—Kansas City Independent.

EARNED THE QUARTER.

An Attorney and Undertaker Rolled a Bundle of Hides For 25 Cents.

This morning a Sixth street shoemaker received a bundle of hides which he was very anxious of having weighed and made the remark that he would be willing to pay 25 cents to get them weighed. A lawyer and undertaker who were present said they would take the hides down street and get them weighed for the money. They got the contract and had not taken the hides 10 feet until they rued their bargain, but would not back out. It took them half an hour to do the work, and they discovered that the hides weighed 255 pounds. They were dirty and grimy when they got back and were greeted with much applause by the large audience that had gathered to see the finish.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.

Christian Endeavorers to Meet at M. P. Church For Two Days In June.

Arrangements are now being made for the holding of the annual convention of the Christian Endeavor societies of the Pittsburg conference of the Methodist Protestant church in this city. The exact dates have not been set, but it is intended to hold the convention early in June. District officers will be elected and the session will last two days. It is said the convention will bring several hundred people to the city.

Bryan Said Filipinos as Citizens Will Menace Us.

WILL WE TOLD THEM AS SLAVES?

Said Republicans Took Islands Without Considering What to Do With the Natives—Attacks Feature of the New Currency Bill.

LINCOLN, March 20.—W. J. Bryan spoke here at the State Democratic convention to-day. His speech might be said to have practically outlined the policy of the Democrats in the next National campaign.

Mr. Bryan, in his speech before the Democratic convention, charged the Republican party with practicing a deliberate fraud upon the voters in 1896, by holding out the hope of international bimetalism, when the leaders neither expected nor desired the restoration of the double standard, either by independent action or by international agreement. He denounced the currency feature of the financial bill and said that the Republican party had never in a campaign advocated the retirement of the greenbacks, and that it would not be able to defend that bill before the country. He said that a national bank currency secured by government bonds could not be a permanent settlement of the currency question, unless we had a permanent and increasing national debt.

On the trust question he reiterated his condemnation of the Republican party, saying: "The trust is so bad a thing that the president felt it necessary to denounce trusts in his message last December, but he did not recommend a remedy."

He said a Republican congress listened to the reading of the message and then proceeded to establish a paper money trust, which gives to the people a larger chance of injury and to the banks a larger opportunity for profit than any other trust in existence.

He said that the Republican party was powerless to interfere with the trusts, because the leading Republicans were connected with the trusts, and the party had to rely upon trust contributions to carry on the coming campaign. He presented and defended the remedy which he suggested at the anti-trust meeting in Chicago, last fall, and which he has frequently discussed since that time.

He referred to the Porto Rico bill and said in part:

"The desire to impose import duties on goods coming from Porto Rico compelled the Republican party to disclose its imperialistic tendencies. This bill has aroused a storm of protest from Republicans in public and private life. But why should any Republican be surprised? Imperialism means that the people brought under the flag are not to share in the guarantees of the constitution. It is amazing that Republicans have contemplated the permanent acquisition of the Philippine Islands without stopping to consider the future status of the Filipinos. Are the Filipinos to be citizens? Are they to be allowed to come to the United States with their oriental methods of living to compete with American labor? What good does it do to exclude a few Chinese, and then bring in by force 8,000,000 of Filipinos? Is a presidential contest to be determined by the returns from the Philippine Islands? Are the questions which concern our own people to be decided today by the senators and representatives in congress from the Philippine Islands? And if the Filipinos are not to be citizens are we going to change our constitution so as to hold them in a perpetual state of vassalage? Prof. Schurman, one of the president's commissioners, says that this bill will arouse suspicion in the mind of the Filipino as to his future condition."

"The only settlement of the Philippine question consistent with American interests and American principles is the settlement proposed by the Democrats in the senate before war broke out in the Philippine islands, namely: A declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos independence as soon as a stable government is established. When that declaration is made, hostilities will cease, and it will be easy to establish a stable government. To independence should be added protection from outside interference. It will be sufficient for the United States to announce that any molestation of the Philippines will be considered an unfriendly act."

Mr. Bryan devoted some time to the discussion of the trade argument made in behalf of the Philippine islands, and quoted a letter written by Benjamin Franklin to Lord Howe in June, 1776. The extract from Franklin's letter is as follows:

"The well-founded esteem and affection which I shall always have for your lordship make it painful to me to see you engaged in conducting a war, the great ground of which (as described in your letter) is the necessity for preventing the American trade from passing into foreign channels. To me it seems that neither the obtaining or retaining of any trade, how valuable soever, is an object for which men may justly spill each other's blood; that the true and sure means of extending and securing commerce are the goodness and cheapness of commodities; and that the profits of no trade can ever be equal to the expense of compelling it and holding it by fleets and arms. I consider this war against us, therefore, as both unjust and unwise; and I am persuaded that cool and dispassionate posterity will condemn to infamy those who advised it; and that even success will not save from some degree of dishonor those who have voluntarily engaged to conduct it."

NEW YORK, March 20.—There was an appreciable stirring of speculative interest Monday, which was notably manifest in the railroad list, but which was mostly confined to a few stocks. Baltimore and Ohio preferred was the most conspicuous, with a rise of 3 points. Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio preferred, Atchison preferred and the Colorado and Southern stocks were all in good demand and gained over a point. Mobile and Ohio and Minneapolis and St. Louis preferred rose 2 points each. The bears made attempts to obstruct the rising tendency of prices.

They first made a raid upon the New York stocks on the ground that the tax levied under the new franchise tax law will be so considerable as to threaten their ability to pay dividends. Later an attack was made on the iron and steel group, based on the threatened strike of machinists. Neither of these was very effective in breaking up the strength manifest among the railroads. In fact the railroad list showed more hesitation in face of the violent rallies in the local traction groups than in the weakness of the specialties.

It is well understood that the vicissitudes of the New York stocks are nearly concerned with a rivalry approaching the character of a feud among some of the most powerful financial interests in the street, and the peaceful bystanders have been shown to be as likely to be injured in this conflict as the actual participants. The chief episode in this conflict Monday was the severe punishment inflicted upon the short interests in Third avenue. This stock touched 66½ in the early decline, and reached 85½ several times in the violent fluctuations of the last half hour of the trading. Price changes reached as much as 1½ points between sales. Metropolitan street railway recovered an early loss in sympathy.

New York exchange at Chicago jumped to 35 cents premium Monday, compared with a discount last week, and the proportion of absorption of funds by the New York sub-treasury is much smaller than for the same period last week. Factors for the relief of the money market are thus outlined, without regard to the operation of the new currency law.

Operations in the railroad bonds was active and strong Monday and well distributed. Total sales, par value, $3,795,000.

United States bonds scored a further sharp decline Monday, suggesting the liquidation of holdings by recent buyers, who are induced to take profits on the high prices.

United States 3's, old 4's and 5's declined 1 per cent, refunding 2's, when issued, ¾, and new 4's ¾ in the bid price.

Car Fare Ordinance Not Valid.

DETROIT, March 20.—Judge Swan, in the United States district court, rendered a decision which denies the validity of an ordinance passed some months since by the city council, requiring the street railway companies to reduce rates of fare to three cents. The court said there is nothing in the charter of a city which authorizes such an ordinance, and allows an injunction to strain the city from enforcing it.

Colonel Wallace Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The war department was informed of the death, at Fort Huachuca, A. T., of Colonel Robert B. Wallace (first lieutenant Second cavalry), commanding the Thirty-seventh volunteer infantry. He was severely wounded in the action at Calocan, Luzon, Feb. 10, 1899. He was at Fort Huachuca, A. T., on sick leave when he died.

LONDON, March 20.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Bloemfontein says:

"In a speech which he made here a few days before the British entered the town, President Kruger admitted that his men would be unable to keep in the field for another month."

LONDON, March 20.—4 a. m.—The war office has had no news up to this hour

confirming the report of the relief of Mafeking, but George Wyndham, parliamentary under secretary, for war, replying to a private inquiry in the lobby of the house of commons about midnight, smilingly said:

"I think it is all right." The Free Staters seemingly have not quite collapsed. They are in considerable force around Smithfield, although much dispirited.

A British spy from Rouxville reports that Commandant Olivier and a commando are going to Kroonstadt. The agents he left behind are using desperate means to raise recruits, commanding British Boers under penalty of death.

Kroonstadt, where the Boers are concentrating, is 137 miles from Bloemfontein. It is surrounded by a country of hills and jungles.

General Gatacre is now resting at Springfontein, preliminary to joining Lord Roberts. General Buller's hill work before Ladysmith has given him an experience which is about to be used in forcing the Biggarsberg range. It is believed that 25,000 of his 40,000 men are about to engage General Botha's force, and the next news of fighting will probably come from Natal.

The leaders of the Afrikaner bond are circulating a petition in Cape Colony, asking the imperial government not to take away the independence of the Boers.

Thirty-two thousand additional troops for South Africa are at sea.

PEKIN, March 20.—The ascendancy of the anti-foreign party is becoming more pronounced daily. The dowager empress appears unable to sufficiently reward the officials who exhibit marked hostility to everything not Chinese. Hen-Tung, probably the most bitterly anti-foreign official of the empire, has been decorated with the three-eaved peacock feather, which had never been conferred for 80 years.

The notorious Li Peng Hing, who was dismissed from the governorship of Shantung, on German demand, has been advanced to the first rank, and the former governor, Yu Sen, of Shantung, has been appointed governor of the Shan-Si district, a snub to the powers interested, and likely to prejudice British interests in the province, as the powers believe his maladministration is the cause of the present state of affairs in Shantung.

A FREE TRADE SUBSTITUTE.

One Offered by Senator Beveridge for the Porto Rican Tariff Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Two measures of national importance, and many of slightly lesser interest, were passed by the senate. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying more than $25,000,000, was passed without debate. The measure providing for the appointment of a commission to adjudicate and settle claims of citizens of the United States growing out of the war with Spain was also passed without opposition.

For a brief time the Porto Rican government and tariff measure was under consideration. Mr. Foraker, in charge of the bill, submitted some committee amendments. A few of them were agreed to, but the important ones are still pending. A free trade amendment to the bill was offered by Senator Beveridge.

Senator Beveridge offered the following substitute for the tariff section of the Porto Rican bill:

"All articles coming into the United States from Porto Rico or going into Porto Rico from the United States shall be admitted free of duty, but this act shall not be construed as extending the constitution of the United States, or any part thereof, over Porto Rico, and it is hereby declared that the constitution of the United States is not extended over Porto Rico."

BLOWN TO PIECES BY AN EXPLOSION

Full of Natural Gas This Morning.

HE OPENED A DOOR
TO LIGHT THE GAS JET

Blowing Him Several Feet.

REAR OF HOUSE WAS WRECKED

Doors Were Blown to Pieces and Swindells Had a Narrow Escape.

THE DAMAGE WILL BE HEAVY.

A natural gas explosion this morning nearly caused the death of William Swindells and his escape is almost miraculous. As it is he suffered several severe burns, but the damage to his residence will reach several hundred dollars.

Mr. Swindells resides on Pennsylvania avenue and uses Fort Pitt natural gas for fuel and lighting purposes. Last night between 8 and 8:30 o'clock the pressure went off and the gas in some parts of the house went out, and upstairs it could not be lighted at all, and when the family retired they were compelled to use lamp light. It was thought the jets in the lower part of the house had all been turned off, but it is the custom to leave a jet burning in the pantry.

This morning, as is his usual custom, Mr. Swindells arose about 20 minutes after 6 o'clock and went downstairs. He did not smell any gas and lit the kitchen stove and then lit a jet in the bath room. From there he went to the pantry and opened the door with a lighted match in his hand. Immediately there was an explosion and Mr. Swindells was blown several feet and his hair and clothes caught fire. He fought the fire out with his hands and by the time his wife arrived on the scene he had succeeded in extinguishing the flames. He is severely burned about the face and hands, and his arm, chest and head are bruised. Probably the only thing that saved Mr. Swindells from being burned to death is the fact that he wore a woolen sweater and it did not catch fire, but is simply scorched. The shirt sleeves that extended below the sweater were burned.

The damage to the house will amount to several hundred dollars. The rear portion of the house overlooking the river is badly wrecked. Where the first and second stories of the house join the partition is blown out fully 18 inches, while the veranda is blown loose and presents a dilapidated appearance. The plaster in the bath room is torn off in several places. The door leading to the pantry was blown into several pieces, and Mr. Swindells thinks some of the pieces hit him, which causes the soreness in his head, arm and chest. Another door, which leads to a short hallway from the kitchen to the pantry, was blown off, as was the door leading

When the explosion occurred Mrs. Swindells and the rest of the family were in bed and did not know what had happened. Mrs. Swindells supposed a bed in which her son sleeps downstairs had broken down and she went into his room, but he told her the noise came from downstairs. She went to the kitchen at once and found Mr. Swindells sitting on a chair. She asked him if he was hurt, and he replied that "thank God he was not killed." A physician was sent for and dressed the injured man's wounds and he is resting as easily today as could be expected.

The only explanation that can be given for the explosion is that the jet in the pantry was left burning when the family had retired. During the night it went out and later the pressure came on. The door to the pantry was tightly closed and all the escaping gas was kept in the one room or the volume of the explosion would not have been so heavy. John Swindells, a young son, was the last person in the pantry last night, and he stated that he did not touch the gas.

Mr. Swindells had not seen the havoc caused by the explosion and for that reason could not fix any estimate of the amount of his loss, and was not prepared to say whether he would enter a suit for damages against the company.

CHIEF OFFICERS HERE.

They Held a Conference With General Manager T. F. Anderson.

Yesterday afternoon Charles Baird, of Akron, president of the American Clay Manufacturing company; Thomas D. Brown, of New Brighton, secretary; R. M. Francey and W. B. Goucher, of Toronto, directors of the new company, were in the city the guests of T. F. Anderson, of the East End. Later in the day the gentlemen held a conference with Mr. Anderson in his office in the First National bank building. They returned to their homes last evening.

TRENTVALE STREET.

The Work of Finishing the Grading of the Street Will be Commenced Soon.

Contractor H. S. Rinehart will commence work finishing the grading of Trentvale street just as soon as possible and hopes to get started no later than April 1. It will take about two weeks to complete the work. How soon the road will be paved will be determined when it is ascertained how much money has been expended in grading the road. The council has $6,000 to expend on the road and it is not known how much can be collected by assessment.

A. G. Minehart has decided to move back to this city from Youngstown. He will arrive here about April 1 and expects to engage in business in this city.

THE SHORTAGE OF KILNHANDS

Brotherhood Committee Will Make
a Report This Week and the Demand Will be Supplied.

SATISFACTORY ARRANGEMENTS

Pottery Will Be Completed
Next Week.

F. I. SIMMERS HAS A NEW JOB.

The question of getting more kiln hands for the potteries has been left in the hands of a committee of the Brotherhood and they will make a report this week. The committee is endeavoring to formulate a plan whereby all the potteries will have enough men and the demand will be fully met. It is thought the plan of the committee will be satisfactory to all parties, but what arrangements they will make will not be given out until after they make a report to the Brotherhood.

Dishmakers' local, No. 29, will meet Thursday night and transact routine business. This local is only about 18 months old, but they now have about 48 members, including in that number all the dishmakers in the city except three.

Frank I. Simmers, who has been on the road for the National Glass company for some time, will resign his position April 1 to accept a position in the office of the East Liverpool pottery.

NO MORE.

Streets Won't Be Washed at Night By
the Street Force, As it is Not Necessary.

There will be no more washing of the streets at night, and if they are flushed it will be done in the day time. President Peach, of council, says it is not necessary to have men work all night washing streets in a town the size of East Liverpool, and it is not right to ask them to do it for $1.50 per night. He don't think that is sufficient money for the amount of work the men do, and for that reason they will not be asked to work any more at night. He says it is all right for cities to have the streets washed at night, but in a city the size of this one the work can be done in the day time without seriously interfering with any one.

NOT THE MAN.

Capture at the Grand
Last Night.

Last night the police thought they were on the trail of George Heckathorne and went to the opera house prepared to capture their man. His girl was seen in the gallery and four officers went to the theater prepared to make sure of him. Knowing the character of Heckathorne they were armed to the teeth, and one of the officers pulled his revolver and handcuffs in the stairway to see that they were all right. The advance agent of the show was informed that Heckathorne was a dangerous man and was liable to jump over the gallery if he knew the officers were after him, so they would have to do their work quietly. After every detail for the capture had been arranged it was discovered that the man in the gallery was not Heckathorne.

DIED AT THE INFIRMARY.

Afternoon.

Lisbon, March 20. — (Special.)— Catherine Phillips, 66 years old, died at the county infirmary yesterday. She had been at the institution 21 years and was formerly a resident of Perry township.

Rachael Skelton, of Hanoverton, also died at the infirmary yesterday afternoon.

WELLSVILLE MINISTERS.

Plan to Hold a Union Evangelistic Meeting in May or June.

The members of the Wellsville Ministerial Association held a meeting at the home of Rev. Earl D. Holtz, D. D., and made plans for holding a union revival meeting in that city sometime late in May or early in June. It is expected that the meeting will continue for at least two weeks. There will be a large chorus to assist the meetings.

NO ACTION.

Not Enough Members of the Association Present to Transact Business.

Several members of the hospital association met last night at the Young Men's Christian Association parlors, but there wasn't enough present to do business. An attempt will be made to hold a meeting Friday night. The purpose of the meeting is to take some action toward commencing the erection of a hospital.

Saturday Night.

The Printing Pressmen's union will meet in Pittsburg next Saturday night. Two members from this city will be initiated.

Incorporated.

The Sanitary Reduction company, of this city, has been incorporated with a capital stock of $10,000.

FULL LIST OF THE NOMINATORS.

The Prohibitionists of the state did not cast enough votes at the last election to be known as a party, and it was necessary for the local members to have a petition signed by 50 people before they could get a place on the ticket in the coming municipal election.

The petition which the local Prohibitionists filed with Clerk Hanley is headed by a list of candidates and the following:

"We certify that we have not subscribed to any other nomination of candidates for any of the above offices, and we pledge ourselves to support and vote for the candidates whose nominations are herein requested."

The parties who signed the petition are:

EAST END. SOUTH SIDE.

The East Liverpool & Wellsville Street Railway company have made several attempts to change the route to East End at the power house, but so far each effort has failed. To change the route, according to the plans suggested by council, the company will be compelled to run their cars through the power house, and at present that is as far as they can go. Eighteen inches east of the power house wall is a tract of land owned by James Noah, of East End, 166 feet by 125. Mr. Noah stated yesterday that he was ready to sell the ground for $3,500. The street railway company has offered him $3,300. The company has been after the ground for over a year and parties not connected with the company have also made him offers, but none over $3,300. There is just a difference of $200, but as each side is set on its price the prospects for a deal are not very bright.

R. Strauss, of Salineville, spent yesterday in East End, the guest of Robert Foutts, of Mulberry street.

Dr. W. C. Mowen, of Mulberry street, is threatened with an attack of the grip.

The teachers at the Second Presbyterian Sunday school will hold a meeting in the church Friday evening for the purpose of arranging plans for work during the spring.

Clement Lemon, who was hurt by a fall at the Crockery City brewery, was able to sit up Sunday for the first time. His entire recovery is now only a matter of a short time.

E. H. Laughlin, of Pittsburg, was in the suburb yesterday visiting his parents.

Mrs. T. F. Anderson, of Pennsylvania avenue, who has been under the care of a physician for the last week, is improving.

The making of clay at the new National pottery was begun yesterday, and by the end of the week the management expect to have several clay workers busy.

Yesterday T. F. Anderson, manager of the K., T. & A. sewer pipe plant, under the control of the American Clay Manufacturing company, began the invoicing of stock. This work was done when C. A. Smith purchased the plant and when he sold another invoice had to be made. It will take several days to complete the work.

During Saturday and yesterday the people residing in the East End, who subscribed for the bonus to secure the new National pottery, received notices to pay up, and while some did so, most of the money is still outstanding and will have to be collected. The largest subscription was $100 from a prominent resident of Helana.

PRAYER SERVICE.

The Salvation Army Will Have a Half Night of Prayer Wednesday Night.

The Salvation army is arranging for a half-night of prayer next Wednesday evening in connection with their self denial services, which end Saturday. At the week ending the juniors will take charge of the services and will have charge all day Sunday. A special program has been arranged for the day and night services. The same program will be observed in all the corps of the state.

A valuable horse owned by Joseph Brunson died yesterday morning. This is the second he has lost within a month.

The case of G. W. Allison, of East Liverpool, against Benjamin Evans and William Plotts was heard before Justice Wash. Johnson yesterday afternoon in the Allison store. The suit was to recover some land, which Allison claims is being unlawfully held.

A car load of lathes for the new houses to be erected by C. A. Smith were received yesterday.

The car that jumped the track at the mill siding has been replaced on the track. The several cars of machinery that were on the siding awaiting the removal of the obstruction have been pushed into the mill and are now being unloaded.

Justice Wash. Johnson said yesterday it was not the most pleasant job in the world acting as a court house on wheels. He had in one of his overcoat pockets a bottle of ink, pens and pencils in another, transcripts in another and blank affidavits and warrants in a fourth. He said it seldom happened that a case was filed while he was at his office.

W. C. Allison yesterday was given judgment against John O'Brien by Justice Johnson for $2.51 for goods sold and delivered. An attachment was issued on the Panhandle to obtain some money O'Brien claims due, and the warrant given to Constable Allison.

Another case heard by Justice Johnson was that of Martin Herrington against O'Brien for $8.30, claimed due on a bill of groceries. The papers were given to Constable Allison, returnable Friday. Herrington claims O'Brien is now a resident of Steubenville.

Eph. Johnson, of Chester, left this morning for a week's stay up the Monongahela river doing some work for the Pennsylvania Railroad company. He was accompanied by Engineer McConnell, who has charge of the construction of the extension of the Cumberland branch.

Again old car No. 2 has been placed on the Chester Street railway. The car has been repaired and is in fairly good condition.

Robert C. Newell, of Grant district, was visiting his relative, D. Ward, this week.

Dr. R. S. Donehoo, of Fairview, was in town yesterday. He reports a good deal of sickness in that section.

Council some time ago ordered and had all street water and gas boxes put down to grade in order that all possibility of a damage suit might be avoided. On several streets in the city there is another thing almost as dangerous, and that is the pegs in the sidewalks, left there for some unaccountable purpose unless it is for people to stumble over. Along Sixth street they are a few inches above the grade, and every day somebody stumbles over them. An attorney in speaking of the matter says the city would certainly be liable for damage if any person got hurt because of the pegs.

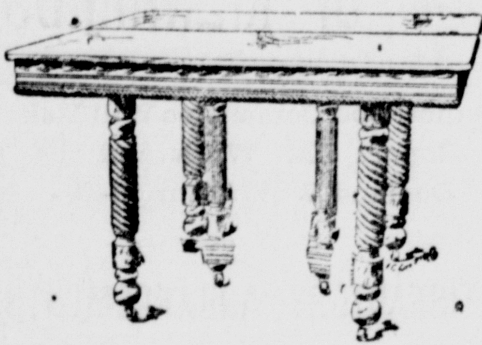

—Jack Harris spent last evening in the city and this morning left for Pittsburg, and from there he will go to Cleveland this afternoon.

At the Grand Tonight.

Cameron Clemens and his excellent company opened a week's engagement at the Grand opera house last evening in the sensational melodrama, "Land of the Cajuns." A big feature with this company is the Glee Lady orchestra, an organization of talented lady musicians who render delightful vocal and instrumental selections during the intermissions. Speaking of the company the Yonkers (N. Y.) Herald says: "Last night Cameron Clemens and his company opened a week's engagement in Music hall, and judging from first impressions it will be a most successful one. Mr. Clemens is well remembered from former visits here, and is a great favorite with Yonkers theater goers." Matinees will be given on Wednesday and Saturday.

Tonight the company will present Oliver Doud Byon's famous scenic melodrama, "The Inside Track," and tomorrow afternoon an elaborate production of the famous drama, "East Lynne."

"The Christian."

Hall Caine's tremendously successful play, "The Christian," dramatized from his own novel of the same name, will be presented for the first time in this city on Thursday, April 19, at the Grand. "The Christian," as a play differs somewhat from the story, but only to the extent necessary to meet dramatic requirements. Glory Quayle appears as presented in the book. In the story John Storm is a controversial character, a personage whose sombre attributes as described by the author present him in the light of a religious fanatic. Holding in mind that people go to the theater for amusement and not to be preached at from behind the footlight, Mr. Caine has relieved the stage John Storm of his pronounced religious characteristics, and presents him as a noble, self-sacrificing man, the love existing between Glory Quayle and Storm forming the central motive of the dramatic story. Yet the changes which have been made in the character of Storm, and by the general construction of the play itself, will not, it is said, disappoint the readers of the book, who go to the theater to see the story and its characters translated to the stage.

What He Prayed For.

A story is told of two worthy New England deacons, between whom a bitter feud had long existed concerning some contested point. Neither would give in, and the matter threatened to be handed down to the next generation, when one day Deacon Smith appeared before his enemy and solemnly said:

"Brother Jones, it is a shame that this quarrel of ours should bring scandal upon the church. I have prayed earnestly for guidance in the matter and have come to the conclusion that you must give in, for I cannot!"

Suspensions Aroused.

Smith—What's wrong, old man? You look worried.

Jones—I am. You know I had my life insured last week?

Smith—Yes, but what has that got to do with it?

He Has Gathered Up the Best Short Sketch of Hon. C. C. Baker's Life.

IS NOW AFTER THE BALANCE WOULD BE RIGHT KIND OF MAN

Great Danger to the Public Welfare Unless a Halt Is Called--A Few Pertinent Points That It Would Be Well For the Voters to Consider Before They Cast Their Ballots.

Did it ever occur to you that the population of the United States at the present time is about seventy millions, and that of this seventy millions only about fifty thousand are lawyers, that is one lawyer to every fourteen hundred of the people.

On the other hand did you ever stop to think of the great number of lawyers who are holding office as compared with the total population. National, state and county, legislative, executive and judicial. You will find a great proportion, and all the best offices filled by lawyers.

They make your laws, they execute your laws and they judge your laws. The only thing you can do is to find fault with the laws, and when it comes to a nomination or election you are told that the only person who is competent to represent you in the office to be filled is the "Wind Jammer" lawyer, who is always a candidate, because he can make a speech.

They have made us believe that a certain part of the offices can be filled by lawyers only, and they are trying hard to create the belief that the balance must be filled in the same way; only one year ago we had a lawyer candidate for the office of sheriff of this county, who tried hard to convince the people that the sheriff's office could be managed properly by no one but a lawyer.

What do you think of this, Mr. Merchant, Mr. Manufacturer, Mr. Farmer, Mr. Mechanic, Mr. Laborer and Mr. Citizen generally? Are we to relinquish our rights to the scheming lawyer politician because he can make a speech?

Using this same argument it will not be long until they tell you the offices of mayor, councilmen, clerk, treasurer, assessor, constable, etc., must be filled by lawyers, because they can make a speech.

Must we turn over the entire government of the nation, state, county and township to the lawyer, because he can make a speech, without reference to his reputation for truth, honesty, industry and ability?

Do you think that this great country of ours was built up and is maintained by wind, or do you think that that which is best about our country has been the result of careful, painstaking effort, business ability, honesty and good judgment?

J. K. BROTHERS AND FAMILY.

To Represent the District In Congress and Would Serve His Constituents Well--He Served Three Years During the Rebellion, With Honor to Himself and Country, and Was Auditor of This County For Two Terms.

A representative of this paper had the pleasure of meeting Hon. Charles C. Baker, of Alliance, when he was in this city a day or so ago. At this time it is not necessary to repeat that Mr. Baker is desirous of filling Hon. R. W. Taylor's seat in congress. This is well known throughout the Eighteenth congressional district of Ohio. However, there are many points of interest in Mr. Baker's life that are not known to all persons.

Charles C. Baker was born of humble but industrious parents in Pennsylvania. When he was 10 years old his father, John Baker, moved his family to Ohio. They settled in Unity township, this county. There the subject of this brief sketch labored and grew toward robust manhood until he was 18 years old.

At that time the horrors of the greatest war of the century, if not of all time, launched themselves in an effort to disrupt the glorious union. Though a boy then Mr. Baker enlisted with Co. C., Sixth Ohio cavalry. For three years he fought for all that the country now holds dear. After the war he returned to peaceful pursuits on the farm. That work claimed his attention until 1869 when he came to Salem and was appointed deputy collector of internal revenue by the late Jesse Duck, known to all Salem citizens. Later Mr. Baker associated with John R. Vernon in the publication of the Journal. These varied employments gave him that best of all schooling, a liberal, general education, and admirably fitted him for his enviable public career to follow later.

In 1880 this farmer, printer and master of politics was elected auditor of Columbiana county on the Republican ticket. He served two terms in this office with honor to himself and credit to the county. As auditor he established a precedent for plain, business-like administration. The record he made there cannot be surpassed if equalled.

After leaving the office Mr. Baker located in Alliance as contracting agent of the Penn Bridge Co., of Beaver Falls, Pa. This work has brought him in contact with state, municipal and county officials of various states. This has served to broaden and develop the man, until today he stands as a representative American citizen in whom the nation may find one of her strongest supporters. His extensive experiences have brought success to himself, as well as to those whom he has represented.

In Alliance and Stark county Mr. Baker has had honor thrust upon him by being elected a member of the board of education, water works trustee and president of the Alliance Bank Co. He was also appointed trustee of the construction of the magnificent court house at Canton.

All this has fitted Mr. Baker for higher public service, entitle him to it and insure a faithful, representative performance of duties should he be fortunate enough to secure the seat in the national house to which he now aspires.

Mr. Baker is a personal friend of President McKinley, as well as a friend of all with whom he has come in contact during his years of public and private life. Possibly the briefest summing up of the man is contained in these words: he is ever mindful of his friends. Is there anything higher or better to be striven for?

WHEELING STOGIES.

Representative Here to Warn Dealers of the Permanent Injunction.

F. D. Thomas, representing the National Stogie Makers' union and the Wheeling stogie manufacturers, arrived in town yesterday for the purpose of warning the retail dealers that any person selling tobies manufactured elsewhere than in the city of Wheeling as "Wheeling" tobies would be liable to prosecution, and a committee on injunction from both the stogie makers' union and the manufacturers will see that legal steps are at once taken against the violators who persist after being warned. The injunction handed down by the United States court of the district of Massachusetts and made perpetual is as follows:

"We, therefore, enjoin and command, you shall not directly or indirectly sell or offer for sale, any stogies in boxes or packages bearing the word "Wheeling," except only stogies actually manufactured in the city of Wheeling, in the state of West Virginia, nor directly or indirectly sell or deliver to any persons who ask for and who desire to purchase "Wheeling stogies" any article or stogies other than the genuine Wheeling stogies, manufactured and made in the city of Wheeling."

THE WRONG COAT.

The Electric Current Struck and Astonished His Spinal Column.

A young gentleman of East Liverpool had occasion to visit a snug home residence in our city yesterday. He divorced himself from his overcoat, hung the garment in the hallway and entered the parlor, where he indulged in pleasing conversation for a short time. Duty calling him to another point, his host picked up an overcoat and assisted the young man partially into the same, when the latter exclaimed:

Investigation developed the fact that an expert electrician was visiting a handsome young damsel in the same homestead, and that his coat had in some manner become fully charged with the electric current. It is suggested that the young lady in question is a powerful magnet.

RAYMAN MAKES FORMAL REPORT

Rev. W. R. Denny's Request for Collection For Children's Society Rejected

AT SCHOOL BOARD LAST NIGHT.

The board of education met in the directors' room at the Central building last evening. Four members were present, Messrs. Smith, Norris and Williams being absent.

A letter from Edwin Roberts, thanking the board for the resolution of sympathy on the death of his wife passed at the last meeting, was received.

Superintendent R. E. Rayman read the following:

"To the Honorable Board of Education: "GENTLEMEN—I hereby submit a report of the investigation made concerning the collections taken in schools for the purpose of paying piano rent. There seems to have been some misunderstanding.

"It is found that the names were not placed upon the boards, together with the amounts due.

"It is found that pupils were not sent home and told to remain at home until the amount was paid

"It is found, however, that several children were detained a few minutes after school for consultation about the payment of this amount and in one case a pupil was sent home for a written statement from the parent.

"Further, it has been ordered that no collections of any kind whatever shall be taken without the consent of the board of education.

"Respectfully submitted,

"R. E. RAYMAN,

"Superintendent of Schools.

"EAST LIVERPOOL, March 19, 1900."

The following bills were ordered paid: Frank Smith, $14.62; H. R. Hill, $24; F. S. Albright, $5; Wilson Stationery company, $10.85; S. G. Hard, $6.25; J. Jones, $1.95; Eagle Hardware company, $25.80; Howard Chemical company, $3; American Book company, $78.96; W. L. Chamberlain, $7.65; Lewis Bros., $28; Ginn & Co., $275; W. B. Azdell, $17; George B. Whetton, $1.25; Will Road, $11.50.

The monthly report of Superintendent Rayman presented to the board was as follows: New enrollment, males 25, females 16; entire enrollment, males 1523, females 1536; monthly enrollment, males 1236, females 1182; average daily attendance, males 941, females 905; per cent attendance, males 89, females 89; promoted 18 (last month there were no promotions); demoted, none; pupils absent, males 837, females 844; pupils withdrawn, males 115, females 97; cases of tardiness, males 71, females 84; cases of truancy, males 29, females 2; corporal punishment, 56; teachers absent, 4 days; visits by patrons, males 12, females 63; visits by board, 8; cases of sickness, males 448, females 503, (last month there were 400 males and 402 females reported ill); visits by superintendent, 89; roll of honor, males 367, females 322.

Rev W. R. M. Denny, representing the Children's Home society of Ohio, made a statement to the board of the methods and objects of the society, and

There are certain forms of disease to which medical ignorance and popular superstition have given the title of "Hopeless." That very fact handicaps the sufferers from such diseases by robbing them of the courage to try to regain health. This is particularly true of lung diseases. As soon as disease fastens on the lungs, the victim sits down, makes his will, and awaits his fate. He wouldn't act that way if he were bitten by a tarantula or a rattlesnake. He'd fight then for his life. But he is under the influence of the ignorant and superstitious, that write "Despair of hope" over the door of such diseases as by neglect or unskillful treatment may end fatally in consumption.

There is a new inscription for that doorway of disease, made by rubbing out the first two words and leaving it: "Hope all ye who enter here." What! Can there be hope for the sufferer with the constant cough, flushed face, burdened breathing and emaciated body? The record says "yes." Ninety-eight out of every hundred cases in which Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been used have been permanently cured. "Golden Medical Discovery" positively cures weak lungs, bronchitis, obstinate lingering cough, bleeding of the lungs and kindred ailments, which, if neglected, find a fatal ending in consumption. It contains no alcohol, whisky or other stimulant.

"Your medicine is the best I have ever taken," writes Mrs. Jennie Dingman of Vauburn, Kal-kaska Co., Mich. "Last spring I had a bad cough; got so bad I had to be in bed all the time. My husband thought I had consumption. He wanted me to get a doctor, but I told him if it was consumption they could not help me. We thought we would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and before I had taken one bottle the cough stopped and I have since had no signs of its returning."

asked permission to take up a collection in the public schools. Following his remarks Clerk Hill presented the following resolution:

"The board regrets that its rules forbid the taking up of collections for any purpose in buildings under its control, and, under the circumstances, it is impossible to grant Mr. Denny's request."

The resolution was adopted.

After adjournment the board examined a number of specimens of penmanship submitted by scholars in the lower grades.

A COMMON ERROR.

The Same Mistake Is Made by Many East Liverpool People.

It's a common error.

To plaster the aching back.

To rub with liniment rheumatic joints when the trouble comes from the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills and are endorsed by East Liverpool citizens.

Mr. Henry Bevington, who resides at the corner of Avondale and Bradshaw avenue, says:—"During three years I had attacks of dull steady aching in the back. When stooping or sitting for some time it would change to a quick pang as I arose to an upright position. My back tired out easily when walking or standing long, and I often had headaches, dizziness, and in the morning great depression. I took medicines, many of them, but found Doan's Kidney Pills, sold at the W. & W. pharmacy to be more suitable for my complaint than anything that I had ever tried.

Sold for 50 cents per box by all dealers, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

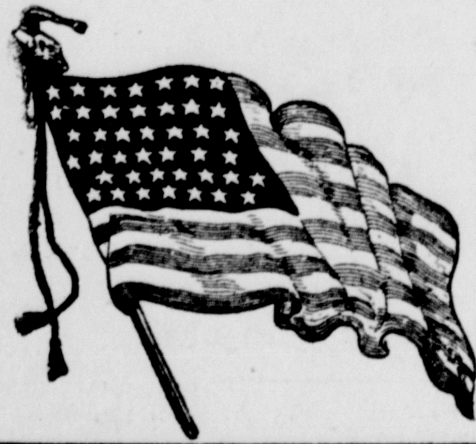

Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

A good deal of the Boer sympathy was dispelled at Paardeburg.

Kansas is to have a big exposition. Well, Kansas deserves a show now she has lopped off her wind and whiskers.

Pop Anson of ball fame has been mentioned for alderman in Chicago. Adrian should have no trouble in making a home run.

And now the English say the refusal of the Irish to wear the green, now that it has become lawful, is another evidence of the cussedness of the race.

TAKE IT HOME.

Think of it, man, and act wisely and well. Your dear ones at home, father, mother, wife or little ones, will thank God for your goodness and kindness. Don't toil all day at workshops, bench, pottery, or whatever occupation you may be engaged in, and then give your earnings to the saloon keeper, receiving in return from him headaches, sorrow, suffering, penury and perdition. Exercise common sense, man, and let the saloon keeper and his bartenders go to work like you do, and earn an honest and honorable living. Turn in, man, and assist in driving out of this grand nation the unAmerican saloon. Act today, man, and God will bless you for every right step you take, from a pure motive.

STARTLING STATEMENT.

A prominent business man asserts that drunkenness is decidedly on the increase in East Liverpool. And the assertion is made by a second business man that the saloonkeepers are becoming much more bold in their defiance of law and of decency, and that selling after hours and on Sunday have become common features in many of the dives and hell holes of the city. And a third business man states that the better class of citizens are becoming thoroughly aroused and indignant on account of the number of insolent drunken men to be seen daily and nightly on our streets. Is it not high time to call a halt? Should not Mayor Bough issue orders hat his roundsmen shall exercise greater vigilance in bringing these offenders and outlaws to justice? The Liquor league counted itself as smart and cunning in its purchase of votes and the defeat of the Clark bill. May it not be that the "devil has deserted his own," and that the righteous indignation of an outraged public opinion will result in the exclusion of the saloon from the municipality instead of the ward? God speed the day.

THE LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

Fitness, Ability and Locality of Judge Taylor All Conceded in His Favor.

The candidacy of Judge Isaac H. Taylor for renomination to the judgeship of the court of common pleas of this district is meeting with general favor and gives proof of the popularity of the judge, not only in Carroll county, but throughout the district. His fitness for the position is conceded by all who know him. His reputation for ability, integrity and fairness has been well established. During his entire tenure of office not even the faintest suspicion has been entertained that he has permitted his personal likes or dislikes to influence his judgment in any case ever brought before him. His treatment of attorneys has been uniformly courteous. Dignified in deportment, clear in his exposition of law and careful in his rulings he has won the esteem of some of Ohio's most eminent practitioners, among whom is the brilliant lawyer, Virgil P. Kline, of Cleveland, who gives it as his opinion that Isaac H. Taylor is one of the most profound and learned judges now occupying the bench in the state.

Located as Judge Taylor is in Carroll county, the county from which the vacancy in the judgeship occurs, he is the logical candidate. From the flattering notices which have appeared in the press throughout the district concerning his candidacy and the warm words of approval heard in support of it, it would seem that his renomination is a foregone conclusion. This is as it should be. If, when the judicial convention assembles to make a nomination Judge Taylor should be chosen as his successor by acclamation the district would honor itself more than it would honor the man who has presided over its courts with such dignity and grace.

O'MALLEY PAID $50 AND COSTS

He Pleaded Guilty to Keeping His Saloon Open on Sunday and Said He Sold Liquor.

TWO LOITERERS PAID $10.60

The Cook Was Dismissed and McKeever and Haley Gave Satisfactory Explanations.

OTHER POLICE COURT CASES.

Mayor Bough had a good day yesterday and the result of his labor added a lot of money to the city treasury.

The first party to face the mayor was Michael O'Malley, who was charged with keeping his saloon open on Sunday. He acknowledged that he was guilty and said he did sell on Sunday. The mayor fined him $50 and costs, and he enriched the city coffers just $54.60.

Chalmer McClurg was the next man up. He said he was in the saloon of O'Malley on Sunday and had drank there. He paid $10.60.

Isaac Eoff was in the same boat as McClurg, and it cost him the same amount, $10.60.

Amos Reed had no difficulty in proving that he was a cook at O'Malley's and was attending to his duties when the raid took place. He was dismissed.

William McKeever and John Haley said they didn't drink in the place, and the officers hadn't seen them drink. While this didn't excuse them, the testimony surrounding their case was such that the mayor thought he was justified in dismissing them.

Ed. R. Frederick, who was arrested yesterday on a charge of assault and battery, preferred by Martha J. Smith, failed to put in an appearance last night and the $10 he put up for his appearance was declared forfeited.

Michael Malone, who was arrested Sunday night by Officer Mahony for giving a concert on Market street, called on the mayor last night and paid $9.60 for his song.

Thomas Connors, the Chester man arrested Saturday night for being drunk, cashed up last night and it cost him $7.60.

Ernest Kretschmer succeeded in getting the amount of his fine yesterday afternoon and was released. The jail is now empty.

There was one lodger in the city jail last night.

The mayor held court until after 9 o'clock last night, but it was a paying session.

Indignation at Lisbon.

Lisbon, March 20.—There is a strong feeling of indignation here among the friends of the various candidates at last Saturday's nomination against Robert W. Taylor. There were 30 candidates at Saturday's nomination, all home candidates and neighbors of Mr. Taylor. He was in the county, yet did not take interest enough in any of them to come home and cast his ballot. They are now asking: "What can Mr. Taylor expect when he treats his home people in this way?" The past few days has seen some wonderful changes. Look out for a landslide next Saturday.

TAYLER AND THE POTTERY SCHEDULE.

What General Grosvenor Says About It—How Tayler Fought the Battle.

(Washington Correspondent Canton Repository.)

At the congressional dinner, previously mentioned, Speaker Henderson spoke of General Grosvenor as "the most universally used and useful man in the majority," and none sought to win from the Athens seer and political prophet the coveted honor: "I thought the first time Tayler spoke in the house that he made a mess of it," says the general. "He took the floor in behalf of a Democrat in an election case and defended a principle of law that I considered ill founded. I thought the break would be the death of him politically, but he defended his position so adroitly and with such consummate skill from the attacks of his opponents in the committee that he won the applause and approbation of all.

Framing the Dingley Bill.

"Then when it came to the framing of the so-called Dingley bill he became much in evidence. It seemed every article affected by the schedule interested his constituents. I think no one who served on the committee will forget his fight for the pottery schedule and his claims were adopted. He fought the battle for his East Liverpool constituents and finally won. Then he began a war in behalf of a great Canton industry and won a victory. Steel and iron and all sorts of manufactured products came under his protection and none escaped his notice. Even the chicle of chewing gum came in for his defense. With an due respect for those who have departed from our earthly presence, I believe Robert Tayler had more to do with the successful framing of the Dingley tariff bill as it went to the senate in so far as it pertained to the interests of the industries of his district than any other man in our party. What he has done recently each daily paper records and certainly there is not a man of morality, or a mother, or wife, but is of the American fireside, the family circle, the sacred foundation of liberty and its incarnation, the American nation. Tayler is a leader among leaders—a most valuable colleague and a credit to our great state. When Ohio gets to sending more men like him to congress and to keeping them there, our people will receive the benefit of wiser and more extended legislation."

Cabs Not Admitted.

Americans visiting London, for the first time are more than likely to hail a hansom the day they arrive and start promptly to see the row. Half the books, stories, newspaper articles, etc., treating of English life make prominent mention of this the smartest driveway in the world. London society circles largely about Hyde park, and naturally enough tourists regard it as a good starting place from which to study British manners and peoples.

Imagine, then, the indignation and the disgust of a pair of pretty girls, accustomed to traverse home drives in any fashion they like, warned back from Hyde park entrance by a six foot arm of the law. No tips, no remonstrance, no pleading, has the slightest effect upon the stern "bobby," who simply orders cabs to depart and tells his fares to get a more correct equipage if they desire to take part in the row parade.

It is livery or nothing, and if the visitor continues to long for a glimpse of the Hyde park show she must have boots and breeches to drive her, thereby having at least the semblance of a private establishment. No admittance is the standing rule for the ostensible cab.—Boston Globe.

FIRE AT GLASGOW.

Residence of Robert Wallover Damaged by Fire Early Sunday Morning.

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning fire was discovered in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallover at Glasgow, and for a time it looked as if the entire house would be destroyed. Several young men passing the house saw the smoke coming through the roof and gave the alarm. A bucket brigade was formed, and after working for half an hour the flames were extinguished. The fire was caused by an overheated chimney.

CUMMINGS IS STILL LIVING

Was Removed to More Comfortable Quarters Last Evening

BUT HE CANNOT LIVE LONG

His Treatment Arouses Much Indignation and Leads to Action.

There was much talk on the South-side yesterday over the terrible deed committed Sunday, but none equalled that heard about the manner in which the Hancock county authorities allowed John Cummings to remain in the small shanty, where he had been placed by G. A. Arner and Garrett Mercer. It is admitted by all that Cummings was likely to die at any time, but all also agree that he should have had better treatment. William A. Gardner, when he saw the man lying in the shanty, said: "This is nothing short of inhumanity. The idea of the people of Chester and even of Hancock county permitting this man to lie in that place without medical attention as long as they did is revolting."

Dr. F. M. Laughlin was seen in his office this morning and made the following statement about the condition of Cummings:

"When I was called to the South-side Sunday I did not know how badly the man had been injured. When I saw him in the little shanty and the nature of his surroundings I knew it was no place for a man in the condition that Cummings was. I suggested to the people of Chester to collect a small amount of money and send the man to a Pittsburg hospital, but this was not done. I have made a thorough examination of the case and read the best works treating on cases of that character. The people of Chester think that a great many things should have been done for the man, but I believe they did not know the gravity of the case."

When Dr. Laughlin was asked why an operation was not performed he replied: "No operation is indicated until the man has reacted from all concussion. If after several days he has reacted from the effects of the concussion, and still remains unconscious, you know then that it is due to blood clots on the brain, or pressure due to broken pieces of bone from the inner table of the skull. The question is then whether an operation would benefit his condition. The operation, if one should be performed, should be in no place other than a hospital and under the most skilled surgeons. The operation is one of the most delicate known in surgery."

When Constable R. E. Allison placed John Purvis in the county jail at New Cumberland Sunday evening he made a charge of assault and battery against him. He will remain in jail until next week, when he will be given a hearing. While going to Cumberland Allison attempted to get Purvis to talk, but he would not. He told the officer he would think the matter over for a few days before he would make a statement.

Prosecutor McKenzie, of New Cumberland, was in Chester yesterday afternoon investigating the trouble, but he learned nothing but what had been published last evening. He returned to his home last night and will return to Chester tomorrow morning.

Samuel A. Allison, overseer of the poor of Grant district, took charge of Cummings yesterday afternoon. He rented a room in the Thompson block, which was formerly occupied by the Russell family. At 5 o'clock last evening Cummings was removed from the little shanty where he had been since Sunday morning to this room.

It was in this room Dr. Laughlin visited him last evening and made an examination. At a late hour this afternoon Cummings was sinking rapidly, and those about him did not expect him to live until night.

ONE CHANCE IN A HUNDRED.

Doctors Hobbs and Laughlin Will Perform an Operation This Afternoon.

Drs. W. A. Hobbs and F. M. Laughlin will perform an operation upon Cummings this afternoon. They say there is one chance in a hundred that the man's life can be saved. The overseers of Grant district authorized the engagement of the surgeons, but it is understood that C. A. Smith, of this city, will bear the expenses.

A Bad Man to Interrupt.

"W'en Moses tell de sun ter stan' still"—began the old deacon.

"Dat warn't Moses," interjected a brother in the amen corner; "dat wuz Joshua."

"Ez I said," continued the deacon, "w'en Joshua tell de sun"—

The deacon's patience was exhausted. He folded his brass rimmed spectacles, laid them carefully on the table before him, walked over to the amen corner, took the objecting brother by both arms from behind and, with the swish of a cyclone, swept him forward toward the door, landing him precipitately in outer darkness.

"Ez I wuz sayin fob dis little incident occurred," he continued, "w'en Moses tole Joshua ter tell de sun ter stan' still!"

Some of the older, learned brethren moved uneasily in their seats. They looked as if they wanted to correct him, but they did not. They let it go at that. —Atlanta Constitution.

Character in the Hair.

If your hair is fine, it denotes gentle birth. If the ends cling together, it is a sign of great intellectuality, and a tendency to curl shows inherent grace and a poetic nature.

These are some of the things set forth by the science of hair reading, yet undeveloped, but likely to "give us away" in a manner often more accurate than pleasing.

This science tells us, too, that the person with straight hair has a firm, positive and practical disposition. Color shows the temperament. For instance, it is well to watch out for the person with black, lusterless hair. He's apt to be treacherous and jealous. The lighter the hair the more sensitive and "touchy" its owner. Brown hair belongs to him who has common sense, good judgment and reason in high degree, which would indicate that humanity isn't even half bad. Red hair shows honesty and cleverness.

THE NEW OPERA HOUSE SITE

Options Secured on Hall, Cannon and Smith Properties, Sixth Street.

The Capital Stock Will Be $60,000 and the Building Will Be Modern.

WILL BE GROUND FLOOR.

The fact that a new opera house is to be built in the city was given to the public exclusively by the News Review several weeks ago, and the parties who have the matter in charge have at last succeeded in negotiations on the site and subscriptions for the stock are now being taken.

The site consists of the Hall, Smith and Cannon properties, lying on the north side of Sixth street, a short distance from the Diamond. The theater will be located in the rear of the lot, will be ground floor 70x115 feet, with a 20-foot entrance from Sixth street. The front of the property will be used for business blocks. The company will be capitalized at $60,000 and every effort will be made to have the opera house ready for the season of 1900-01.

It is proposed to make the theater thoroughly up-to-date with all modern improvements, and when completed the house will be the finest in this section of the state.

"They used to tell a story of two men who were working on opposite sides of a buzzsaw. The attention of one becoming momentarily distracted, he ran his finger against the saw, and the severed piece dropped on the other side, where his partner was working. That worthy picked it up and, with the casual remark, 'Bill, you've dropped something,' handed it back to its owner. Bill didn't faint, but it is only owing to the superior burst of speed developed by his partner that he is not doing time for homicide."—New York Tribune

The Right of the House of Representatives to Ignore Credentials Is Now Established

Regarding the prominent part taken by Congressman R. W. Tayler in the Roberts case, and the precedent established that the house has the right to discard credentials and deny what has been considered the inalienable right to be sworn in, the Washington correspondent of the Cleveland Plain Dealer has the following:

"The wonder of it all is the manner in which Tayler, of Ohio, whipped them into line.

"The denial to Roberts of the right to be sworn in is the personal triumph of Tayler. By what arts, what conjuration and what mighty magic he won them over will ever remain a mystery, save as they exist in the personal qualities of Tayler himself. Why, the majority of Republicans at first blush repelled the idea of denying the right to be sworn in. There are interviews galore on the subject. Cannon declared that a man would make himself ridiculous who sought to brush aside a right so inalienable. Dillard said that the right to be sworn in upon proper credentials was undeniable. Scores spoke along the same line, but you see, they had not yet heard from Tayler.

"When Tayler had finished a new authority in the house procedure had been established and the fact that it is likely to breed chaos in the future does not detract but rather adds to the persuasive eloquence of the member from Lisbon. For charmed he ever so wisely and he convinced them against their wills. I do not speak so much of those who felt the party lash, but of the others who came at the golden voice of the magician.

"Tayler certainly had the arrogance of conviction with him to which was supplemented the knowledge of a sufficient precedent. No breezes could blow that would make him sway. Tayler made a pronounced hit.

Force of Habit.

In 1827, just after Dan Dougherty, the Irish pugilist, fought his famous fight with Jew Belcher, the English fighter, on the curragh of Kildare, near Dublin he became involved in a controversy with an unknown. The latter was not a pugilist, and, not wishing to take any advantage of his opponent, Dougherty consented to fight him with pistols. The two met by appointment, but their seconds, unknown to them, extracted the balls from the pistols and substituted blank cartridges. By the terms of the agreement between the principals Dougherty's opponent was to have the first shot. The natural instinct prevailed even on the dueling ground, and as the fighter's opponent raised his arm to fire Dougherty elevated his right arm, as if to ward off a blow, evidently intending to stop the bullet from hitting him in the face. After this who can say that fighters are not dezo game men?—Kansas City Independent

EARNED THE QUARTER.

An Attorney and Undertaker Rolled a Bundle of Hides For 25 Cents.

This morning a Sixth street shoemaker received a bundle of hides which he was very anxious of having weighed and made the remark that he would be willing to pay 25 cents to get them weighed. A lawyer and undertaker who were present said they would take the hides down street and get them weighed for the money. They got the contract and had not taken the hides 10 feet until they rued their bargain, but would not back out. It took them half an hour to do the work, and they discovered that the hides weighed 255 pounds. They were dirty and grimy when they got back and were greeted with much applause by the large audience that had gathered to see the finish.

Golden Revealed the Plot to Tom Campbell.

3,000 MEN NEEDED TO TAKE HIM.

Declared He Was in a Certain County in Eastern Kentucky—Present Officials and Ex-State Officials Concerned in the Conspiracy.

CINCINNATI, March 20.—Mr. T. C. Campbell, who has been employed by the brothers of the late William Goebel to assist in the prosecution of the assassin of Mr. Goebel, was here, fresh from a conference with his associates, held at Lexington. In conversation, Mr. Campbell was unwilling to disclose the state of their case, but he said that, so far as now known, the assassin was not yet arrested. He added that the assassin would be arrested whenever a force of 3,000 armed men could be had to go to a certain county in eastern Kentucky.

He said further that the attorneys for the commonwealth claim to have proof to establish a conspiracy for the assassination, but he made the assertion that this conspiracy was not charged against the Republican leaders, but against what is known as the "anti Goebel party." He further said it includes men who were officials prior to the late election, and men who thought they became officials after the late election.

Mr. Campbell has been in consultation, at Barboursville, Ky., with a brother of Captain Golden, who was shot by Colson. It is said he revealed the plot. LEXINGTON, Ky., March 20.—A telephone message from Winchester, 18 miles from this city, says that G. W. Golden, alleged to have made an incriminating statement with reference to the Goebel murder, is in Winchester. He refused to see anyone. The Goebel men are keeping strict watch on his movements. He is not registered at the hotel. It is reported that he is in conference with the Goebel men at Winchester. An unconfirmed rumor there to-night is that he has given the name of the man whom he says shot Goebel.

FRANKFORT, Ky., March 20.—The news of the alleged confession of F. Wharton Golden, of Barboursville, in regard to the assassination of William Goebel, produced a sensation here. Golden was formerly a guard at the penitentiary here, under the Republican administration, and is well known. It developed that the police and detectives have been watching his movements since the day of the assassination, on the theory that he knew something about it. Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin and County Attorney Polsgrove declined to discuss the alleged confession, as did others who are assisting in the prosecution, though one went so far as to say Mr. Golden will be one of the most important witnesses introduced by the state.

Some regret that this matter became public so soon, as they fear it will make it dangerous for him to return to his home at Barboursville, and that it may also seriously impede the prosecution in work which has been going on for several weeks, and which might have led to other developments soon. Caleb Powers, the Republican secretary of state, who is in jail charged with being an accessory to the assassination, and who is alleged to be implicated by Golden, refused to discuss the confession story in any form.

BARBOURVILLE, Ky., March 20.—The report that F. W. Golden had turned state's evidence in the Goebel murder case, was a great surprise here. Green Golden, cousin of Wharton, says it was utterly false that he was sent by Powers to keep Wharton from going to Frankfort. F. W. Golden was a close friend of Caleb Powers, doing a good deal of work for him during the campaign.

It is said that he left here, on a telegram from the attorneys for the prosecution to come to Lexington. When the news reached here that he had made a confession, friends of the accused parties became very uneasy, and prominent Republicans said if it should be true, "the trees would bear fruit that they never bore before." It is also learned that ex-Representative Berry Howard and F. M. Cecil, of Middlesboro, were here Saturday night, in consultation with Golden. Cecil was sergeant-at-arms at the session of the legislature at London.

Soldiers are still on duty day and night. Captain Hawn will not recognize Taylor, and so the arms have been placed under the control of Lieutenant Gibson.

Democrats Filed a Demurrer.

LOUISVILLE, March 20.—Governors Beckham and Taylor took the same train to Frankfort. The Democratic attorneys filed with Judge Fick a demurrer to the amended answer of the Republicans in the governorship suit.

ADVICE TO AGUINALDO.

Potter Said Friends Told Him His Cause Was Hopeless—Bishop Praises General Otis.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Bishop Potter, who has just returned from a five month's tour, which included visits to the Philippines, Japan and India, said when Japan has taught the Chinese the art of war, neither England, Russia nor Germany will decide the fate of the east.

Referring to the Philippine situation, Bishop Potter said in part:

"Whatever we might have done a year or more back, there is but one thing for us to do now, and that is to hold on to the islands and assume the responsibility for their future. The military administration of the islands is beyond praise. General Otis has not received half the recognition to which he is entitled."

He said the Filipinos were not capable of self-government.

"Several friends of Aguinaldo," continued the bishop, "called upon me in Hongkong, and they told me that they were satisfied that there could be no success for his undertaking. The better class of Filipinos are satisfied that American occupation means increased prosperity, and are not raising any objections."

Roman Catholic religion was pretty generally observed, and as education spreads the tenets of the Anglican church will receive general acceptance. Much of the good order existing and the many manifestations of good will to the Americans, Bishop Potter attributes to the high moral character of the American soldiers.

CHINESE AGITATION.

Reports of Anti-Foreign Demonstrations Exaggerated, Say Officials at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Admiral Watson has not yet advised the navy department of the name of the vessel selected to proceed from Manila to Taku, in accordance with the request of the state department that a ship be sent to China to safeguard American interests. It is said at the state department that the extent of the agitation in China has been very much exaggerated. It is asserted that as a matter of fact there is no more disturbance in China now, as a whole, than at any time during the past 20 years.

But the concentration of the world's attention upon the Flowery Kingdom has had the effect of magnifying little troubles in the various provinces out of all proportion to their real importance and significance. That is said to be true as to this last demonstration by the "boxers," a secret society of anti-foreign tendencies.

HOUSE REFUSED TO CONCUR.

Would Not Agree to Senate Amendments to Porto Rican Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The house refused to concur in the senate amendments to the Porto Rican relief bill. The Democrats supported a motion to concur on the ground that it would avoid further delay in extending relief to the inhabitants of the island, but the Republicans stood firmly behind Chairman Cannon in his demand that the house should insist upon its original provision to appropriate not only the money collected on Porto Rican goods up to Jan. 1, but all subsequent monies collected or are to be collected.

The remainder of the day was devoted to District of Columbia business.

Merriam Was Not in Control.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—At the Cœur d'Alene investigation Representative Hay, of Virginia, directed the examination with a view to disclosing how far the United States troops were under the control and direction of Governor Steunenberg and his executive official in Shoshone county, Bartlett Sinclair. J. H. Forney said General Merriam was not the responsible commander, as the governor and Mr. Sinclair directed affairs.

Railroad Sold at Auction.

JOPLIN, Mo., March 20.—The Kansas City, Pittsburg and Gulf railroad was sold at public auction, to satisfy a $23,000,000 mortgage, with one year's accrued interest, held by the State Trust company, of New York. But one bid was made, that by Silas W. Pettit, chief counsel of the Philadelphia reorganization committee, of $12,500,000, the upset price.

Two Killed by a Bull.

Furnished Special Attendants by the Pennsylvania System.

The bureau of attendants for trans-Atlantic travelers established in Jersey City and New York City twenty years ago by the Pennsylvania system, has proven a great convenience to persons making European trips and to tourists arriving in America at that port. It will be particularly convenient for visitors to the Paris exposition because the departure docks of most of the Atlantic steamship lines are convenient to the new Jersey City passenger station of the Pennsylvania Railroad company.

This bureau consists of experienced agents whose duties are to meet passengers arriving in Jersey City and New York over the Pennsylvania lines and assist them in arranging for trans-Atlantic trips via any of the steamship lines by conducting them to steamships and aiding in preparations for a trip abroad.

These agents will provide cabs operated by the Pennsylvania system and aid passengers with their baggage. They are fully posted on matters pertaining to steamships leaving New York, and arrangements can be made through them for procuring steamship tickets in advance.

They also meet incoming steamships to aid travelers in shaping details for continuing journeys from New York over the Pennsylvania lines by furnishing tickets, arranging for the transfer of baggage from steamship docks after it has been passed by customs inspectors, and having the same checked through to destination. They will reserve sleeping car accommodations and relieve persons of the foregoing details, making themselves useful as attendants and guides free of charge.

Further information on the subject may be obtained by addressing the nearest Pennsylvania lines ticket agent, or C. L. Kimball, assistant general passenger agent, Cleveland, Ohio.

TAUBENECK IS DEAD.

Former Populist National Chairman Expired in Seattle, Wash., at Home of His Brother.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 20.—Herman E. Taubeneck, well known as the former chairman of the national committee of the People's party, died in this city. He came here from the East about two months ago in delicate health, and has since been resting quietly at the home of his brother, ignoring all publicity. The body will be shipped to his old home in Illinois.

1,000,000 TO EQUIP SOLDIERS.

War Department to Ship Goods to Men in Philippines.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Colonel Patten, of the quartermaster general's office, completed arrangements for the shipment of about $1,000,000 worth of clothing and equipment to Manila for the use of the troops in the Philippines during the next six months.

These shipments will be made by way of New York and San Francisco by the first available transports, and are in response to cabled requisitions from Colonel Miller, the depot quartermaster at Manila.

One never realizes how little he really knows until he has read a page or two of the dictionary.

THORN IN OUR SIDE.

Bryan Said Filipinos as Citizens Will Menace Us.

WILL WE FOLD THEM AS SLAVES?

Said Republicans Took Islands Without Considering What to Do With the Natives—Attacks Feature of the New Currency Bill.

LINCOLN, March 20.—W. J. Bryan spoke here at the State Democratic convention to-day. His speech might be said to have practically outlined the policy of the Democrats in the next National campaign.

Mr. Bryan, in his speech before the Democratic convention, charged the Republican party with practicing a deliberate fraud upon the voters in 1896, by holding out the hope of international bimetalism, when the leaders neither expected nor desired the restoration of the double standard, either by independent action or by international agreement. He denounced the currency feature of the financial bill and said that the Republican party had never in a campaign advocated the retirement of the greenbacks, and that it would not be able to defend that bill before the country. He said that a national bank currency secured by government bonds could not be a permanent settlement of the currency question, unless we had a permanent and increasing national debt.

On the trust question he reiterated his condemnation of the Republican party, saying: "The trust is so bad a thing that the president felt it necessary to denounce trusts in his message last December, but he did not recommend a remedy."

He said a Republican congress listened to the reading of the message and then proceeded to establish a paper money trust, which gives to the people a larger chance of injury and to the banks a larger opportunity for profit than any other trust in existence.

He said that the Republican party was powerless to interfere with the trusts, because the leading Republicans were connected with the trusts, and the party had to rely upon trust contributions to carry on the coming campaign. He presented and defended the remedy which he suggested at the anti-trust meeting in Chicago, last fall, and which he has frequently discussed since that time.

He referred to the Porto Rico bill and said in part:

"The desire to impose import duties on goods coming from Porto Rico, compelled the Republican party to disclose its imperialistic tendencies. This bill has aroused a storm of protest from Republicans in public and private life. But why should any Republican be surprised? Imperialism means that the people brought under the flag are not to share in the guarantees of the constitution. It is amazing that Republicans have contemplated the permanent acquisition of the Philippine Islands without stopping to consider the future status of the Filipinos. Are the Filipinos to be citizens? Are they to be allowed to come to the United States with their oriental methods of living to compete with American labor? What good does it do to exclude a few Chinese, and then bring in by force 8,000,000 of Filipinos? Is a presidential contest to be determined by the returns from the Philippine Islands? Are the questions which concern our own people to be decided someday by the senators and representatives in congress from the Philippine Islands? And if the Filipinos are not to be citizens are we going to change our constitution so as to hold them in a perpetual state of vassalage? Prof. Schurman, one of the president's commissioners, says that this bill will arouse suspicion in the mind of the Filipino as to his future condition."

"The only settlement of the Philippine question consistent with American interests and American principles is the settlement proposed by the Democrats in the senate before war broke out in the Philippine islands, namely: A declaration of the nation's purpose to give the Filipinos independence as soon as a stable government is established. When that declaration is made, hostilities will cease, and it will be easy to establish a stable government. To independence should be added protection from outside interference. It will be sufficient for the United States to announce that any molestation of the Philippines will be considered an unfriendly act."

Mr. Bryan devoted some time to the discussion of the trade argument made in behalf of the Philippine islands, and quoted a letter written by Benjamin Franklin to Lord Howe in June, 1776. The extract from Franklin's letter is as follows:

"The well-founded esteem and affection which I shall always have for your lordship make it painful to me to see you engaged in conducting a war, the great ground of which (as described in your letter) is the necessity for preventing the American trade from passing into foreign channels. To me it seems that neither the obtaining or retaining of any trade, how valuable soever, is an object for which men may justly spill each other's blood; that the true and sure means of extending and securing commerce are the goodness and cheapness of commodities; and that the profits of no trade can ever be equal to the expense of compelling it and holding it by fleets and arms. I consider this war against us, therefore, as both unjust and unwise; and I am persuaded that cool and dispassionate posterity will condemn to infamy those who advised it; and that even success will not save from some degree of dishonor those who have voluntarily engaged to conduct it."

An Appreciable Stirring of Speculative Interests, Especially in the Railroad List.

NEW YORK, March 20.—There was an appreciable stirring of speculative interest Monday, which was notably manifest in the railroad list, but which was mostly confined to a few stocks. Baltimore and Ohio preferred was the most conspicuous, with a rise of 3 points. Union Pacific, Baltimore and Ohio preferred, Atchison preferred and the Colorado and Southern stocks were all in good demand and gained over a point. Mobile and Ohio and Minneapolis and St. Louis preferred rose 2 points each. The bears made attempts to obstruct the rising tendency of prices.

They first made a raid upon the New York stocks on the ground that the tax levied under the new franchise tax law will be so considerable as to threaten their ability to pay dividends. Later an attack was made on the iron and steel group, based on the threatened strike of machinists. Neither of these was very effective in breaking up the strength manifest among the railroads. In fact the railroad list showed more hesitation in face of the violent rallies in the local traction groups than in the weakness of the specialties.

It is well understood that the vicissitudes of the New York stocks are nearly concerned with a rivalry approaching the character of a feud among some of the most powerful financial interests in the street, and the peaceful by-standers have been shown to be as likely to be injured in this conflict as the actual participants. The chief episode in this conflict Monday was the severe punishment inflicted upon the short interests in Third avenue. This stock touched 66½ in the early decline, and reached 85½ several times in the violent fluctuations of the last half hour of the trading. Price changes reached as much as 1½ points between sales. Metropolitan street railway recovered an early loss in sympathy.

New York exchange at Chicago jumped to 35 cents premium Monday, compared with a discount last week, and the proportion of absorption of funds by the New York sub-treasury is much smaller than for the same period last week. Factors for the relief of the money market are thus outlined, without regard to the operation of the new currency law.

Operations in the railroad bonds was active and strong Monday and well distributed. Total sales, par value, $3,795,000.

United States bonds scored a further sharp decline Monday, suggesting the liquidation of holdings by recent buyers, who are induced to take profits on the high prices.

United States 3's, old 4's and 5's declined 1 per cent, refunding 2's, when issued, ¾, and new 4's ¼ in the bid price.

Car Fare Ordinance Not Valid.

DETROIT, March 20.—Judge Swan, in the United States district court, rendered a decision which denies the validity of an ordinance passed some months since by the city council, requiring the street railway companies to reduce rates of fare to three cents. The court said there is nothing in the charter of a city which authorizes such an ordinance, and allows an injunction to strain the city from enforcing it.

Colonel Wallace Dead.

WASHINGTON, March 15.—The war department was informed of the death, at Fort Huachuca, A. T., of Colonel Robert B. Wallace (first lieutenant Second cavalry), commanding the Thirty-seventh volunteer infantry. He was severely wounded in the action at Calocan, Luzon, Feb. 10, 1899. He was at Fort Huachuca, A. T., on sick leave when he died.

GAVE BOERS ONE MONTH LONGER.

This Was Before British Entered Bloemfontein—Report That Mafeking Is Relieved Said by Wyndham to Be Probably True.

LONDON, March 20.—A dispatch to The Daily Telegraph from Bloemfontein says:

"In a speech which he made here a few days before the British entered the town, President Kruger admitted that his men would be unable to keep in the field for another month."

LONDON, March 20—4 a. m.—The war office has had no news up to this hour

confirming the report of the relief of Mafeking, but George Wyndham, parliamentary under secretary, for war, replying to a private inquiry in the lobby of the house of commons about midnight, smilingly said:

"I think it is all right."

The Free Staters seemingly have not quite collapsed. They are in considerable force around Smithfield, although much dispirited.

A British spy from Rouxville reports that Commandant Olivier and a commando are going to Kroonstadt. The agents he left behind are using desperate means to raise recruits, commandeering British Boers under penalty of death.

Kroonstadt, where the Boers are concentrating, is 137 miles from Bloemfontein. It is surrounded by a country of hills and jungles.

General Gatacre is now resting at Springfontein, preliminary to joining Lord Roberts. General Buller's hill work before Ladysmith has given him an experience which is about to be used in forcing the Biggarsberg range. It is believed that 25,000 of his 40,000 men are about to engage General Botha's force, and the next news of fighting will probably come from Natal.

The leaders of the Afrikaner bond are circulating a petition in Cape Colony, asking the imperial government not to take away the independence of the Boers.

Thirty-two thousand additional troops for South Africa are at sea.

PEKIN, March 20.—The ascendancy of the anti-foreign party is becoming more pronounced daily. The dowager empress appears unable to sufficiently reward the officials who exhibit marked hostility to everything not Chinese. Hen-Tung, probably the most bitterly anti-foreign official of the empire, has been decorated with the three-eved peacock feather, which had never been conferred for 80 years.

The notorious Li Peng Hing, who was dismissed from the governorship of Shantung, on German demand, has been advanced to the first rank, and the former governor, Yu Sen, of Shantung, has been appointed governor of the Shan-Si district, a snub to the powers interested, and likely to prejudice British interests in the province, as the powers believe his maladministration is the cause of the present state of affairs in Shantung.

A FREE TRADE SUBSTITUTE.

One Offered by Senator Beveridge for the Porto Rican Tariff Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—Two measures of national importance, and many of slightly lesser interest, were passed by the senate. The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, carrying more than $25,000,000, was passed without debate. The measure providing for the appointment of a commission to adjudicate and settle claims of citizens of the United States growing out of the war with Spain was also passed without opposition.

For a brief time the Porto Rican government and tariff measure was under consideration. Mr. Foraker, in charge of the bill, submitted some committee amendments. A few of them were agreed to, but the important ones are still pending. A free trade amendment to the bill was offered by Senator Beveridge.

Senator Beveridge offered the following substitute for the tariff section of the Porto Rican bill:

"All articles coming into the United States from Porto Rico or going into Porto Rico from the United States shall be admitted free of duty, but this act shall not be construed as extending the constitution of the United States, or any part thereof, over Porto Rico, and it is hereby declared that the constitution of the United States is not extended over Porto Rico."

Thayer and Bryan.

When William Jennings Bryan first went to Nebraska, he was hired to take the stump against Thayer, who was running for governor, and said some hard things against the candidate. "Thayer was elected," Bryan is quoted as saying in the Chicago Times-Herald. "After he took the governor's chair he was called to be toastmaster at a banquet at which I was set down for a speech. I did not care to go to that banquet. I did not wish to meet the governor. I remembered all that I had said of him, and I felt cheap. But I went and sat there through the early proceedings quite uncomfortable.

"Finally it came time for the governor to call upon me. He rose from his seat, with programme before him, and slowly said, 'Mr. Bryan—Bryan.' Then he slowly turned his eyes upon me and addressed me, 'Do you speak or sing?' "That is all I ever heard from Governor Thayer as to what he thought of my campaign speeches against him."
